Desperate Fighting for the Possession of Torreon Is Reported.

Huerta's Commander Comes Out of the City to Dispute the Way of the Former Bandit and Villa Is Sending Large Numbers of Wounded Men to the Rear. Big Guns Freely Employed to Stop Constitutionalists.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
EL VERJEL (Mex.) March 23.—Fighting of the most sanguinary character occurred in the streets of Gomez Palacio. The rebels took the water tank on Cerro de la Pila, the Brittingham soap factory and the cuartel.

The cuartel caught fire and the rebels were compelled to abandon it. At this hour the battle is reported still in progress. Streams of wounded are being brought to the field hospital here and as fast as possible being sent back to the general hospital at Bermejillo. Losses on both sides are reported heavy, but Gen. Villa says the town is now practically his.

JUAREZ, March 23.—The battle of Torreon opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon, according to an "official" dispatch received here by Gen. Manuel Chao, military Governor of the State of Chihuahua, and signed Gen. Francisco Villa.

"I have just begun attack on Gomez Palacio and will take it tonight," was the substance of the message. It was filed at Elverjel, a village five miles north of Gomez Palacio. The latter is a suburb of Torreon, three miles distant and connected by a street car line.

The message made no mention of an attack on Lerdo, a near-by manufacturing concern. Gomez Palacio, a railroad center of importance, lies on a plain, but it is commanded by a mountain called Cerro La Pila. The heights, according to recent reports, were fortified by the Federalists and it is assumed that Gen. Villa's attack opened with a shelling of the Federal positions on its rugged slopes.

ALL ONE TOWN.
The three towns are practically one. The distance between them is covered by four miles of street railways. Gomez Palacio is a military stronghold where the main Federal force is gathered under Gen. Rafael Velasco. Gomez Palacio and Lerdo are without important natural defenses and in previous revolutions have never been seriously defended. The result of strength is expected to come soon when Villa hurles his force against the defenses of Torreon. On this battle, it is conceded, hinges the fate of the revolution.

The mountain Cerro La Pila lies to the right of the street car and railroad tracks which connect Gomez Palacio with Torreon. Gen. Villa telegraphed confidently that he would take Gomez Palacio tonight. His confidence is based on the fact that the defending force on the mountain could be cut off by a superior enemy, and the position is, therefore, merely an outpost.

The advance was preceded by a furious cannonading directed at the Federal batteries with their infantry support on the mountain slopes. Once Gomez Palacio and the mountain La Pila are taken, the rebel troops may move through a valley following the street car line to Torreon until the very gates of that city are reached. It is probable, however, that they will have to fight to cross the Nueces river, which runs between the two cities.

The whole valley is reported to be in a state of defense with barbed wire entanglements and trenches. Irrigation ditches in some instances have been flooded, while others, left dry, will shelter the Federal soldiers. Federal batteries everywhere occupy the hills which slope in on Torreon from all sides.

The preliminary skirmishing which enabled the rebels to bring their batteries into action this afternoon began at daybreak today and the Federalists fought stubbornly. They retired from the defenses of Torreon. On this battle, it is conceded, hinges the fate of the revolution.

IN BABY'S EYE.

Born Blind, the Little One Recovers His Sight by a Previous Operation, and the Grafting Performed at Baltimore Is Expected to Give Him Normal Vision.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BALTIMORE, March 23.—An operation of unusual interest to the medical profession was performed at the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital this afternoon, when the entire cornea of the eye of a pig was taken out and grafted to the eye of a three-months-old baby. The pig was brought from Germany to this country for the purpose.

The little patient is David Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kane. Kane is manager of a hotel in Gettysburg. It is said by the surgeons at the hospital that every indication points to the success of the operation, though the grafting of an animal's cornea on the human eye has never proved so before. In former operations, however, the cornea used was that of a rabbit. Today's operation was the first in the history of surgery to be performed with the eye of a pig.

When born, the Kane child was blind. His sight could probably have been made perfect had the infant been taken to a hospital immediately. It has been in the institution since it was six weeks old. Several weeks ago, by a more ordinary operation, the sight of his right eye was made almost perfect. The condition of the left eye necessitated the use of the pig's cornea.

After the cornea of the child had been taken out, the pig's cornea was removed from its socket and sewed into the white of the child's eye. The condition of the patient is assuring, but the pig died while under the influence of ether.

REPEALERS MAY LOSE.

Wilson in a Hurry for a Vote.

Fear Honest Debate Is Likely to Defeat His Panama Tolls Policy.

Ninety Per Cent. of People Asked Favor Exemption of American Ships.

President Has an Alibi for Declaration of Baltimore Platform.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE
TIMES, March 23.—While it is believed at the White House that President Wilson's recommendation for the repeal of the free tolls provision of the Panama Canal Act will ultimately be adopted, leaders in the House and Senate are not so sure about it and they admit that there will be a hard fight, which will delay the enactment of trust and other legislation and will tend to postpone the date of adjournment.

Already it has become evident that members of the House, Democrats as well as Republicans and Progressives, vigorously resent the action of the members in charge of the free toll bill to repeal the exemption clause in limiting debate to fifteen hours. Efforts have been made by Representative Underwood, the majority leader, to increase the time for debate on this measure, but he was unsuccessful.

Underwood is opposed to the repeal and will make a speech against it. And there is plenty of other evidence that the fight will be a bitter contest waged in Congress this session.

The House bill and the rule under which it will be considered will be taken up in the House immediately following the passage of the Rivers and Harbor Bill. Such slow progress has been made on this measure that friends of the President have become convinced that a filibuster has been organized to delay the completion of the River and Harbor Bill so that more time for debate on the Panama bill will be allowed. So far, however, no agreement of this character has been reached. The Rivers and Harbor Bill was only half completed when the House adjourned today. It will be taken up again tomorrow and Thursday, but it is hardly likely that it will be completed before the end of this week, unless more rapid progress is made.

MANN TO THE FORE.
That the Republican minority, as such, is not responsible for the filibuster against the Panama Canal Bill was made clear by Minority Leader Mann in a speech today in which he urged the House to hurry the bill. He said that if better progress was not made tomorrow and Thursday, but it is hardly likely that it will be completed before the end of this week, unless more rapid progress is made.

HUMPHREY PROTESTS.
Mann's speech followed one by Representative Humphrey of Washington, an active opponent of the repeal of the tolls and only the second time the filibuster against the appropriation bill in order that action on the tolls question may be delayed. Representative Humphrey stated that President Wilson was treating the House like a lot of schoolboys and he had sent word that not more than fifteen hours of debate were to be given to the tolls question. He also told the Democrats that they were so anxious to rush through the appropriation bill that they were refusing to answer questions on debate.

AGAINST REPEAL.
Representative Stone of Illinois stated today that he believes sentiment in favor of the repeal of the tolls was waning in Congress and the country at large. Stone says that he sent out several thousand circular letters to his constituents asking their views on the matter and that about 90 per cent. of them were against repeal of the tolls measure.

"I do not believe that free tolls are a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty," said Mr. Stone. "I would like to support the administration in this matter, but I do not care to vote against both the Baltimore platform and the wishes of my constituents."

WILSON ALIBIS FOR PLATFORM.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Wilson asserted today in seeking the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption he not only was asking that the nation do that which was bound in honor to do, but was going the way of the majority in the Democratic party. He pointed out that when the Panama Canal act was passed a majority of the Democrats then in the House voted against the tolls exemption and that only by a coalition of a majority of Democrats with a number of Republicans did the measure become a law.

This announcement was taken in administration circles as the President's answer to the argument that the Baltimore platform was a tolls exemption Democratic doctrine. The President is understood to believe that the majority opinion of the Democrats in the House as last expressed, was a result of more deliberation.

The giant sea fighter was given her name by Miss Lorena Jane Cruce, daughter of the Governor of Oklahoma, who crashed a bottle of champagne against the prow of the ship as the hull began to glide into the Delaware River. Miss Cruce, carrying a bunch of American Beauty roses, was surrounded by twelve girl friends from Oklahoma. Surrounding the christening party were the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, members of the Congressional naval committee, United States Senators Owen and that State in the national House of Representatives. State officials and Gov. Cruce was detained at home.

A Plain Case of a Man Stabbed to Death.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Inquiry into the death of W. S. Benton, a British subject, five weeks ago in Juarez directed by the British Foreign Office has been concluded today. The results were laid before the British Ambassador here for transmission to London. This investigation was conducted by C. E. A. Perceval, the British Consul at Juarez.

Originally ordered to El Paso to cooperate with the commission appointed by Secretary Bryan to inquire into the death of Benton, Perceval, finding the American commission was helpless to act as the result of the refusal of the rebel leaders to allow them to examine and examine the British Consul, conducted an investigation of his own. Much of the evidence was collected in secret because of the fear of the witnesses of punishment at the hands of the Constitutionalists.

From the incomplete evidence that he was able to secure, Consul Perceval reports that Benton, disregarding the advice and appeals of his wife, proceeded to Villa's headquarters with the double purpose of protesting against the spoliation of his ranch and to secure the privilege of marketing his cattle in the United States.

The testimony secured by the Consul makes it appear that Benton was unarmed when he entered Juarez and sought Villa's headquarters; that he entered Villa's office; that there was a scuffle, followed by perfect quiet; no witness could be found who heard the sound of a shot. Benton did not emerge from that office alive, but where and when his body was removed, the report does not disclose.

The Consul drew the inference that Benton had been killed by a knife and that his body had been secretly removed and interred in the immediate neighborhood, though there was no direct testimony adduced to sustain this inference.

The substance of this report will be communicated to Secretary Bryan and the report itself will be transmitted to the British Foreign Office. According to the British view, nothing further can be done in the case at this stage. The report of the Carrizosa commission appointed to investigate the Benton case will be awaited with much interest and will be received by the British government as information at least.

No immediate action is expected at the British embassy as a result of the report, but it was recalled today that Sir Edward Grey in his last statement to the House of Commons on the Benton case made it plain that there must be a heavy reckoning for this killing of a British subject. That the debt would be the future permanent government of Mexico.

Because of His Refusal to Give Money to Gen. Villa's Troops His Coffee Plantation Is Looted and Then Destroyed—He Narrowly Escapes With His Life.

After carrying on a thriving business in Mexico for eight years, Harry T. Howard of No. 215 Winton street returned here yesterday practically penniless, with a story of three months' struggle to reach this side of the border, following an attack on him by a band of sixty rebels.

Howard praised the Huerta faction, stating that every possible protection is being offered land owners by the Mexican government. He attributed his loss to a portion of the Villa army, led by Gen. Jose Zapata.

The attack on Howard dates back to the latter part of December. It was brought on by his refusal to produce funds as demanded by Gen. Zapata, who, enraged by Howard's defiance, closed in on the landowner, destroyed his property by fire and carried off several thousands of dollars of provisions.

Howard owns a valuable coffee plantation located 150 miles from Vera Cruz, where he employed sixty men and women, mostly Mexicans. The larger part of the male hands it has developed, were in league with the Zapata band and have since joined the forces.

Five thousand pounds of coffee, ready for shipment, were burned to ashes on the night of the attack, every house or shed on the place fired.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

JUAREZ, March 23.—Official notice of the attack on Gomez Palacio was received by Gen. Manuel Chaz late this afternoon in answer to a telegram sent to Gen. Villa earlier in the day announcing that a battle had been fought between American troops and Mexican Federal soldiers near Del Rio, in which three of the latter had been killed, after firing across the river and wounding a member of the Fourteenth Cavalry.

In the absence of authentic details of the reported battle much uneasiness was expressed in rebel circles owing to the belief that President Wilson's policy of "observation and peace" had at last resulted in complications and that international bloodshed was likely to ensue.

As the wires to the south had been dead since last night, Gen. Chaz informed the authorities at Chihuahua that he had information of the highest importance to impart to the commander-in-chief, and a few minutes later the report was received.

In the meantime the story of the alleged clash gained wide circulation, and the possibility of a battle on the streets was so effect that the firing across the border might force an early change in the policy of the government.

Coming on the heels of the report of British Consul Perceval that Benton was killed by a knife and that the Constitutionalists officials here expressed the belief that only by the capture of Torreón could the rebels hope to regain their lost prestige.

After resting over night at Casas Grandes, Gen. Carranza and his staff, which is now the terminal of the Northwestern, by Carranza, to Juarez, but it is said that the chief prefers for sentimental reasons, to complete the journey on horseback.

As Conelios is about sixty miles from this city, it is thought that the chief cannot possibly arrive before Thursday. Owing to the wounding of both Quevedo and Orozco, the Federals made no attempt to interfere with the advance of Carranza, as expected.

The rebel chieftain says that both Orozco and Quevedo's commands are camped in the mountains and will not begin operations until the recovery of both leaders.

Plays the Asquith Policy.

EXPLANATIONS
BY ASQUITH.

A General Misunderstanding
Is the Keynote of It.

Army Officers Liable to Dismissal, He Says.

Opposition Finds an Amazing
Case of Paltering.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, March 23.—"Misunderstanding" was the keynote of Premier Asquith's explanation today of the crisis brought about by the resignations of army officers when their regiments were ordered to prepare to proceed to Ulster.

Speaking in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister made it clear, however, that officers and men of the British army refusing to obey orders in connection with the opposition of Ulster to the introduction of home rule for Ireland, were liable to dismissal.

Details of the revolt of the army officers against service in Ulster had been awaited with strained expectations by the whole country. Only brief statements were forthcoming from the Secretary of War, and the Premier, and the gist of these was that the affair was due to "misunderstanding" and that all the officers had now returned to their duty.

As far as the Minister's statements can be interpreted, the "misunderstanding" arose through Gen. Sir Arthur Paget placing a wrong construction on the orders given him by the war office, and telling his subordinates they were to be employed in quelling an uprising in Ulster. The number of officers who resigned their commissions, extent of the disaffection in the army and other details were not disclosed.

Col. Seely was derisively jeered during his examination. Under Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, he stated that "nothing can save the army now, except a declaration that officers will not be compelled to engage in civil war against their fellow countrymen."

When he said that officers refusing to serve against Ulster were only doing their duty, the labor members shouted: "How about strikes?"

The whole affair is generally accepted as demonstrating that the army cannot be counted upon to fight Sir Edward Carson's volunteers against the Ulstermen. Opposition politicians say this means the collapse of the home rule project.

The provisional government officials are enthusiastic over what they consider a crushing defeat for the imperial government, but continue their active preparation for war at the behest of Sir Edward Carson, who declares that he will continue to take such action until assured that the duties of the army in relation to civil power are simple and have never been contested. Any officer or private who refuses to obey an officer is liable to dismissal.

As far back as December, last year, general officers of the army were informed it might be their duty to come to the assistance of the civil power and any officers domiciled in their area might be excused. If there had been an intention of an aggressive move toward Ulster, this would have been the last step taken.

Mr. Arthur Paget had emphatically denied that he ever used any such words as, "that this was the first step in a series of operations to conquer Ulster."

These words were wrongly attributed to the commander-in-chief in Ireland, Gen. Paget never received from the war office any instructions justifying such a statement. It is an undoubted fact that Gen. Hubert Gough and other officers concerned interpreted their instructions in a wider sense.

The army council is now satisfied that there has been a misunderstanding and the officers also are satisfied. If the doctrine laid down by Mr. Law—that any officer refusing to serve in civil war is to be dismissed, the country is in the presence of a new danger.

BRIEF AND VAGUE.

The communication sent by Col. Seely was brief and utterly vague. The gist of it was that some officers had informed Gen. Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, that they could not serve in certain contingencies. There was, he said, a misunderstanding and these officers had been ordered to return to their regiments. The movement of troops, he concluded, was solely in order to protect the stores of government arms.

Both Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, recognized the widespread anxiety for an exhaustive debate on the subject by agreeing to a motion for the adjournment of the House immediately after the Secretary of War had spoken in order to discuss the Irish situation.

The leader of the opposition said that the government's procedure was a most amazing instance of paltering with the House of Commons. The danger of the British army being destroyed before the country's eyes, he said, came on the government's eyes like a bolt from the blue. He said he had received proof apart from the resignations that resignations of officers had occurred.

LAW ON THE SITUATION.

Mr. Law read a letter stating that officers who would not fight against the Ulster men would be dismissed from the service.

THE HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

Judge Meek Hears Arguments to Support the Plea to Release the Mexicans Detained in United States.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PECOCK (Tex.) March 23.—Judge Edward W. Meek of the United States District Court for Northern Texas opened today the habeas corpus hearing here for the release of 5000 Mexican Federal prisoners held at Ft. Bliss, Tex., by the United States military.

The Judge granted the writ last week at Dallas.

The contention of the prisoners is that the United States has no right to hold them under any international agreement or law.

Under the Hague treaty, they assert, a country has a right to hold military men fleeing from another country if they are engaged in an international war, but they assert that where the troops are only engaged in an internecine strife to put down a rebellion at home, there is no war, and therefore no right to hold them.

The prisoners constituted the former Huerta garrison at Olinaga, Mex., and fled to Texas after a week's battle against Villa's rebels. They were made prisoners by United States troops and interned at Ft. Bliss to await the close of the war in Mexico.

Provisional President Huerta of Mexico refused to pay for their subsistence as the first step of his charge that they are illegally held.

He followed it by enjoining American attorneys to bring the habeas corpus proceedings. A similar case was brought in behalf of Huerta troops who fled from Naco, Sonora, and are now interned at Ft. Rosecrans, Cal. The United States courts in California decided against the prisoners and the case is on appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Arguments were concluded at noon and Judge Meek took the case under advisement. Attorneys for the prisoners argued that the fourth, fifth and sixth amendments to the United States Constitution extended guardanties to these prisoners.

EXPLANATIONS
BY ASQUITH.

A General Misunderstanding
Is the Keynote of It.

Army Officers Liable to Dismissal, He Says.

Opposition Finds an Amazing
Case of Paltering.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, March 23.—"Misunderstanding" was the keynote of Premier Asquith's explanation today of the crisis brought about by the resignations of army officers when their regiments were ordered to prepare to proceed to Ulster.

Speaking in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister made it clear, however, that officers and men of the British army refusing to obey orders in connection with the opposition of Ulster to the introduction of home rule for Ireland, were liable to dismissal.

Details of the revolt of the army officers against service in Ulster had been awaited with strained expectations by the whole country. Only brief statements were forthcoming from the Secretary of War, and the Premier, and the gist of these was that the affair was due to "misunderstanding" and that all the officers had now returned to their duty.

As far as the Minister's statements can be interpreted, the "misunderstanding" arose through Gen. Sir Arthur Paget placing a wrong construction on the orders given him by the war office, and telling his subordinates they were to be employed in quelling an uprising in Ulster. The number of officers who resigned their commissions, extent of the disaffection in the army and other details were not disclosed.

Col. Seely was derisively jeered during his examination. Under Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, he stated that "nothing can save the army now, except a declaration that officers will not be compelled to engage in civil war against their fellow countrymen."

When he said that officers refusing to serve against Ulster were only doing their duty, the labor members shouted: "How about strikes?"

The whole affair is generally accepted as demonstrating that the army cannot be counted upon to fight Sir Edward Carson's volunteers against the Ulstermen. Opposition politicians say this means the collapse of the home rule project.

The provisional government officials are enthusiastic over what they consider a crushing defeat for the imperial government, but continue their active preparation for war at the behest of Sir Edward Carson, who declares that he will continue to take such action until assured that the duties of the army in relation to civil power are simple and have never been contested. Any officer or private who refuses to obey an officer is liable to dismissal.

As far back as December, last year, general officers of the army were informed it might be their duty to come to the assistance of the civil power and any officers domiciled in their area might be excused. If there had been an intention of an aggressive move toward Ulster, this would have been the last step taken.

Mr. Arthur Paget had emphatically denied that he ever used any such words as, "that this was the first step in a series of operations to conquer Ulster."

These words were wrongly attributed to the commander-in-chief in Ireland, Gen. Paget never received from the war office any instructions justifying such a statement. It is an undoubted fact that Gen. Hubert Gough and other officers concerned interpreted their instructions in a wider sense.

The army council is now satisfied that there has been a misunderstanding and the officers also are satisfied. If the doctrine laid down by Mr. Law—that any officer refusing to serve in civil war is to be dismissed, the country is in the presence of a new danger.

BRIEF AND VAGUE.

The communication sent by Col. Seely was brief and utterly vague. The gist of it was that some officers had informed Gen. Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, that they could not serve in certain contingencies. There was, he said, a misunderstanding and these officers had been ordered to return to their regiments. The movement of troops, he concluded, was solely in order to protect the stores of government arms.

Both Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, recognized the widespread anxiety for an exhaustive debate on the subject by agreeing to a motion for the adjournment of the House immediately after the Secretary of War had spoken in order to discuss the Irish situation.

The leader of the opposition said that the government's procedure was a most amazing instance of paltering with the House of Commons. The danger of the British army being destroyed before the country's eyes, he said, came on the government's eyes like a bolt from the blue. He said he had received proof apart from the resignations that resignations of officers had occurred.

LAW ON THE SITUATION.

Mr. Law read a letter stating that officers who would not fight against the Ulster men would be dismissed from the service.

brigadier-generals and other officers avoiding the service on an incorrect plea of domicile in Ulster, would be tried by a court-martial." This Mr. Law contended demonstrated that Gen. Paget disagreed with Premier Asquith, who declared that the measures were only precautionary while Gen. Paget concluded that he was proceeding to conquer Ulster.

Mr. Law added the opposition has always held the view that the coercion of Ulster is an operation no government has the right to ask the army to undertake and "in our view an officer who refuses to only fulfilling his duty."

Mr. Law asked whether Gen. Hubert Gough, commander of the Third Cavalry Brigade at the Curragh, had been reinstated, and if so on what terms. He contended that officers refusing to undertake duty against Ulster should be permitted to resign instead of losing their pensions.

"Nothing," declared Mr. Law, "could save the army now but a clear declaration that officers of the navy and army would be permitted to resign in civil war against their wish."

"The government is attempting to coerce a portion of the United Kingdom without the authority of the electorate," Mr. Law asserted.

It will be difficult for the Prime Minister to convince the House of Commons that the government is proceeding with or without his knowledge some of his colleagues did not make these movements of troops as part of a concerted plan to provoke or intimidate Ulster.

THE ALASKA RAILWAY.

Bailey Wants the Army and Navy to Build It—Lane to Visit the Territory.WASHINGTON, March 23.—Employment of officers and men of both the army and navy in the construction of the Alaskan Railroad, or any other public work authorized by Congress, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Bailey, Democrat of Pennsylvania. The bill further stipulates that "citizens shall not be employed in or on any such work until the military and naval establishments can no longer supply the officers and men necessary to carry it forward with reasonable expedition."In explanation of his measure, Mr.
Bailey said that all public works should be carried on by the army and navy. "If under the direction of
Col. Goetzl a canal can be built at Panama, is there any reason to doubt that railroads can be built in Alaska and other territories?" he asked. "The army and navy would welcome an opportunity to climb down off the backs of the masses and enter upon a career of genuine self-support and resulting self-respect," he declared.LANE'S VISIT.
To get first-hand information in connection with the construction of the government's railroad in Alaska, recently authorized by Congress at a cost of $35,000,000, Secretary Lane of the Department of the Interior, as the representative of President Wilson, will make an extended trip to Alaska during the coming summer. It became known today. Arrangements for the trip are already under way, and it is expected that the Secretary will be accompanied by a commission of the Interior to select the route for the proposed railroad. The members of which have not yet been announced by the President. It is probable that Secretary Lane will descend upon the route of the line while in Alaska. It is also expected that most of his time while there will be taken up with organization work, negotiations with existing railroads and the study of problems relating to the development of Alaska's resources. In the meantime,
Secretary Lane is devoting considerable time to the preliminary work of building the proposed railroad.TEN-HOUR LAW VALID.

officials of the Department of Agri-

Give Your Blood A GOOD Searching Bath

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these conditions could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from undigested food, constipation and inactive kidneys. The symptoms of fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications are often wrongly diagnosed as Pionatze poisoning. Many people who act hastily from violent temper are simply suffering from the effects of poisoned blood, produced by faulty elimination. But by far the greatest peril to the daily danger from bruises, contusions, the scratch of a rusty nail, and vocational poisoning.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are related to the fact that it is a natural blood purifier. It is the natural property of the system to get rid of the waste products of the body. If you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pionatze, Bile and this same blood, but you will feel the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S. It is the only medicine that claims to be the "Just as Good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beautiful materials. Be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. THE REDFIELD OUTLOOK.

Secretary of Commerce Tells U. of C. Men the Nation Is Working Out a Social Revolution.

BERKELEY, March 23.—The fifty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the University of California was celebrated today.

William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, spoke in the Greek Theater on "The Larger Outlook," touching on important questions now before this country. He was introduced by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the university. The Secretary will be the guest of honor late today at the annual charter-day reception to be given by President and Mrs. Wheeler.

This country has not known that it is working out a revolution, Secretary Redfield told the undergraduates. "The larger outlook," he said, "is that a new social bill of rights is being practically worked out in our country. It is a little thing, but it is upon line in this place; precept upon precept in another.

"Men have not known that they are working out a revolution. Many who have had part in the movement have not thought of what they did or what they were doing as aught but an individual thing. Many are not conscious how far the current has run in other places. If, however, we were to attempt to set back the car of social progress to the point where it stood even a few years ago, we would find it impossible to do so.

"The impulse of this mighty force is felt in our political debates and is reflected in party platforms. One may scarcely take up the morning paper or read his monthly magazine without seeing, if he has vision, the daily strides this movement makes. "It is the power that condemns monopoly. It is no other is the force that demands the removal of privilege. It is that which says the creature of the State may and shall be regulated by the State."

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) LONDON, March 23.—The medical profession of London gave a dinner tonight to Brig-Gen. William C. Gorgas, Surgeon-General of the United States army, as a tribute to the splendid work done by him as chief of the sanitary department at Panama.

Viscount Bryce of Dechmont, former Ambassador at Washington, presided. Lord Bryce, and Lewis Harcourt, the Secretary of the Colonies, were instrumental in having Gen. Gorgas investigate the conditions in the South Africa mines, from which he has just returned. Mr. Harcourt, however, was not able to be present. Sir Havelock Charles, president of the Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, paid a glowing tribute to Gen. Gorgas.

Gen. Gorgas, who responded in a characteristically modest speech, Walter Hines Page, the American Ambassador, replied to the toast to the President of the United States in a speech which he read from a typewritten manuscript. He warmly commented on the President's co-operation with Congress. He said that the President's method of approaching Congress directly was scientific, as well as human and friendly, and that Congress had responded in as hands-on a way as the President had displayed in approaching it and thus far had proved to be the most industrious and efficient Congress assembled in a lifetime.

Gen. Gorgas will go to Oxford tomorrow with Sir William Osler, to receive the degree of doctor of science.

An Appeal to Reason

Who passes judgment for you on your political, civic and religious beliefs? Then, why not do your own investigating on this health question? See for yourself the part Bile plays in your physical make-up. Every authority concedes that Bile is the element that purifies and disinfects the food and food channel. Pure food for the blood means a healthy body. Pure food for the blood is impossible without a free flow of Bile.

PeDoLax Releases the Bile

"PeDo" from Podophylla, the medical name for May Apple Root, in biblical times it was called "Mandrake." "Lax" from Laxative, meaning to release gently without the purging, cathartic action of other bile starters. PeDoLax is the name.

After thinking this over, after investigating for yourself, ask for PeDoLax—and remember that the man who offers you "something better" or "just as good" questions your intelligence.

Former Chief of the Mine Workers Admits that Union Labor Was the Middle, or Something of the Middle, at the Birth of the I.W.O. Monstrous.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Testifying today before the House Committee investigating the Calumet strike, John Mitchell, labor leader, said life and labor conditions in Butte were much superior to life and conditions in the Michigan copper district.

Mr. Mitchell testified that while the Western Federation of Miners had participated in the organization of the industrial workers of the world, the Western Federation of Miners had nothing in common with the industrial workers of the world. Mr. Mitchell explained the organization of the Western Federation of Miners as a cross-examination of the industrial workers of the world.

Good Times and the Business Ducking

Editorial
By Judge Elbert H. Gary
Chairman of the Board of Directors
United States Steel Corporation

Our editorial page has become standard. It is devoted to some views of important questions handled by the most prominent authorities. Judge Gary, whose fingers are continually on the pulse of our nation, is perhaps better equipped than any other man to speak on matters of vital importance. He tells why our business prosperity is so frequently and seriously interrupted—why, with our great and growing wealth, our resources and superior advantages, we are not more continuously prosperous—and more WHYs.

The Great Serial the Prince of Graustark

By George Barr McCutcheon
Illustrated by R. F. Schabelitz

The preceding installments were highly amusing, but they were only preliminaries. The real fun commences in the installment to be published in this issue. The undaunted and self-satisfied Blithers is literally shaking hands with himself. He has thrown out a gilded net and to him Prince Robin of Graustark is as good as landed. He plans a wonderful ball in honor of the Prince, the novel feature of the evening to be a sparring match between two famous prize fighters. Everything is serene and velvet in his mind—when the unexpected blow falls. Maud, his pride and joy, rebels and flatly refuses to meet the Prince. A "stunning" situation to the Blithers family. It leaves you impatient for the next installment.

The Invitation of the Sea

Prose Poem
By Marguerite O. B. Wilkinson

Here might be the answer to "What Are the Sea Waves Saying?" An invitation to partake of its strength-giving, evil-denying, bracing gifts; an invitation for the weary toiler, for the pompous rich, for the old, for lovers, for little children. Its inspiring message is like an invigorating dip in the sea.

Occult Phenomena and Common Sense

Article
By H. Addington Bruce

Whether or not we believe in occultism, this weird and uncanny subject is always fascinating. We learn here that physical research has been useful to medical science, that hypnosis, crystal gazing, etc., have their value in bringing back health to victims of nervous breakdowns. Some things are also explained away that many of us have puzzled and wondered over.

The Troubles of Two Working Girls

Story
By Helen Van Campen

Illustrations by Horace Taylor
These are nothing "high-brow" about this story. It's a mixture of slang and chorus-girl anecdotes, but the result is so droll and entertaining that we endorse it as a chapter of the "blues."

Confessions of a Washington Lobbyist

Lo, the Poor Indian!

When a reverend doctor, a prominent millionaire financier and others of unscrupulous character form an association for the mental and spiritual uplift of the North American Indian, everyone applauds. No one thinks of looking for an Ethiopian in the woods, unless it be a clever lobbyist. Even the President has the wool drawn over his eyes. This Washington lobbyist is so sharp that his find, in the form of an innocent-looking bill about to be passed by Congress, places the association completely under his thumb. The slice he receives to keep his tongue in his cheek enables him to retire from the work of lobbying.

CLEVER SCHEME LACKS FINALITY.

AUTO REPORTED AS LOST AND INSURANCE COLLECTED.

Contractor Is Arrested and Is Held to Have Confessed—He Inspects Another Man in the Deal and as Their Stories Do Not Jibe, Both Are Jailed.

A new scheme for obtaining money was foisted by the police yesterday when W. R. Tobias, a building contractor living at No. 1137 Orange street, was arrested on a charge of reporting his automobile as lost and then obtaining $900 in insurance from an auto-theft insurance company.

With him in the City Jail is A. W. Shaw of the Sherman Hotel, who took the machine to the garage at the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach and is believed to be a party to the scheme to obtain money from the insurance company.

On January 23 Tobias himself reported the alleged theft of his car from in front of his home on Orange street. About two weeks later he collected $900 from the Inter-Exchange Insurance Company of the Southern California Automobile Club.

Yesterday, exactly two months later, John Powell of the auto-theft bureau in the District Attorney's office, learned of the automobile's presence in the Hotel Virginia garage at Long Beach. Some effort, it is alleged, had been made to get the machine out. Tobias was arrested by Powell and Detectives Erven and Hiseok of the Central Police Station, and at once confessed to the scheme, according to the police.

But Tobias's story implicated the second party in the scheme. He said he had given $120 to Shaw to take the machine from Los Angeles and have it repaired at the Hotel Virginia garage. He says he gave Shaw $14 to make the trip.

When Shaw was arrested another story was told. He says Tobias gave him $30 to take the machine to Long Beach preparatory to having it dismantled so that its appearance might be entirely changed. Shaw was then to sell it and receive $100 in commission for the sale, the purchase price to go to Tobias.

The discrepancy in the story resulted in the arrest of Shaw on suspicion of grand larceny. Tobias is booked for obtaining money under false pretenses.

DAY FOR CLEANING HOUSE.

South Pasadena Women's Association Makes Plans for Creating a Spotless Town—Short News Stories.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 23.—Under the auspices of the South Pasadena Women's Improvement Association, the originator of the idea, the Chamber of Commerce and the municipal authorities, this city will soon have a "clean-up day," which will be set for some time in April.

The Chamber of Commerce through its Home Trade Committee, is issuing a general invitation to citizens to get in the procession with the "boosters." "South Pasadena" is the slogan of the booster crowd, and every loyal citizen is promising to trade at home, to talk about his city's advantages, to work for improvements, to welcome strangers and to support local institutions. To this end every South Pasadena is asked to join the local Chamber of Commerce and also to support public officials in all work for the city's good.

March 27 is the date set for the debate between South Pasadena and Hollywood debating teams, the local High School auditorium to be the arena. Miss Genevieve O'Connell and Robert Henner will represent the home school. The subject of the debate is "Resolved, That the United States Congress should District Should Have the Option of Electing Citizens Non-Resident in the District to Represent It in Congress."

Basel Brock, No. 805 Fremont avenue, had a close call last evening when he was struck a glancing blow by a bullet fired by young McDonald near the old adobe house. It is reported that Brock and two companions were raising a disturbance near Fair Oaks and Mission streets and when an officer approached the jade ran north cutting across the Raymond golf links. When they reached the McDonald residence, they concealed themselves in some bushes, and the McDonald boys, thinking they were chicken thieves fired on them. One of the missiles struck Brock over the left eye, inflicting a scalp wound that did not prove serious. He ran a short distance and fell. Upon recovering from the shock he made his way downtown, where he was given medical attention, and sent to his home on Fremont avenue.

As the result of hard work on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and the San Gabriel Valley Inter-city Council, the long looked for and promised routing on the north-bound interurban cars over the San Pedro street line out of Los Angeles, has been promised for tomorrow. The 113 trains now operating daily in and out of the Main-street station will be routed over the new municipal line to and from the auxiliary station on Los Angeles street. The trains affecting South Pasadena will be the Pasadena short line trains, leaving Pasadena at 4:15 p.m., 4:30 p.m., and 5:10 p.m., and Pasadena short line limited trains leaving Los Angeles at 5:45 p.m., 6:15 p.m. and 6:45 p.m., which will be routed via San Pedro street and Seventh street to and from Los Angeles-street terminal, daily except Sunday.

DAIRYMEN ORGANIZE.

ALPAUGH, March 23.—Alpaugh and Angolia dairymen have organized for work of co-operative dairymen, and at a meeting held in Alpaugh last evening the new association was started with the election of officers. They are: H. E. Whipple of Angolia, president; J. E. Chambers of Alpaugh, vice-president; R. Groenewald of Angolia, secretary, and J. C. Mancocks of Angolia, treasurer. Following the election the dairymen present pledged their product to the new association, the herds signed up representing something over 1500 cows. Organization work will be followed by the sale of bonds for the construction of a modern creamery plant, with which to handle cream and milk of the members.

BATTERY PASSER INSPECTION.

Earns Creditable Comments from Army Officer—Lock and Enacting Drill and Check-Up.

Battery A, First Battalion Field Artillery, N.G.C., passed inspection last night at its quarters in Exposition Park and earned creditable comments from Capt. E. H. Yule, U.S.A., and Maj. Ralph J. Faneuf, battalion commander, the inspecting officers, who are to report fully to the War Department and Adjutant-General of the State, respectively.

Capt. Yule, who conducted the battery's target practice last September at Centinela, characterized the showing made last night as "splendid." Maj. Faneuf modestly withheld some comments which he would evidently have been glad to eulogize regarding this portion of his command, but he was heard to remark to Lieut. P. J. Montgomery, in reference to his keeping of certain battery records: "I could not improve upon that."

Capt. R. A. Ford put his men through a long and exacting course of drill and inspection work, including dismounted musketry, foot drill, formations, battery formation for inspection of equipment, inspection of mechanics and cooks, with their apparatus practically in action, pitching tents, and signal corps work.

Comments which would evidently have been glad to eulogize regarding this portion of his command, but he was heard to remark to Lieut. P. J. Montgomery, in reference to his keeping of certain battery records: "I could not improve upon that."

WRITES LETTER TO CITY CLERK OF AVALON WHICH IS CALCULATED TO KILL BOND MOVEMENT.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
AVALON, March 23.—Municipal ownership of public utilities received its death blow here when a letter was read by the City Clerk today stating that Hancock Banning, owner of the seven-eighths interest in the entire stock of the Santa Clara Island Electric company, protested any sale or lease of the utilities to the city of Avalon.

In the election last week for a bond issue for $150,000 to purchase the sewer system, electric light plant, water system, and a gas plant, the proposition was defeated decisively. Another effort was being made to push through a bond issue for a water system, but the letter received from Mr. Banning will probably put a damper upon further attempts at municipal ownership of Avalon's public utilities.

BEGINS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.

Oceanside Chamber of Commerce Elects New Officers, Girds Its Loins and Goes After Things.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
OCEANSIDE, March 23.—With a substantial membership and assurances of generous financial support the Oceanside Chamber of Commerce has been reorganized and has entered upon an active campaign for publicity and civic improvements. James T. Van Rensselaer is president, Mrs. J. J. Jones, vice-president; Miss Alice Manning, secretary, and J. E. Jones, treasurer. Besides these officers, who are directors, the following are members of the board of directors: Miss J. F. Martin, E. Gray, William Merrill, W. S. Spencer, W. H. Scott, and Miss R. L. Clewitt. Messrs. A. H. Bell, Law W. Stump, George Bohner, Harry D. Brodie, C. V. Forsman, R. W. Everett and J. L. Mathews. It is proposed to make a charge of $10 per year for membership.

RESIDENCE BURNS.

The fine two-story wooden house in Carlsbad, built in "boom times" by Capt. Frasier at a cost of about $10,000, bought a few months ago by Luke Craig, formerly of Burbank, but more recently of San Luis Rey, was destroyed by fire Friday night, together with most of its contents. A fire was left burning in the kitchen stove when the family retired, and the burning of the house is attributed to it. Mr. Craig was in Burbank at the time, the only members of the family at home being Mrs. Craig and the youngest child, a two-year-old boy. The loads of fire fighters rushed to the scene of the fire from Oceanside, but arrived too late to be of service. It is said that an insurance policy of $6000 had been taken out on the house a few days before the fire.

FOUR DEFENDANTS.

The trials of W. H. Henley, Charles Cole, C. T. Bundy and John Backlin, charged with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, have been commenced before City Recorder L. W. Stump. The evidence was secured by John E. Hill, an employee of the Anti-Saloon League, several months ago. Attorney G. H. Scherer of San Diego is assisting City Attorney J. Johnston in the prosecution, while the defendants are represented by Attorney Winchberger. Jury trials are demanded in each case.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Lew W. Stump, merchant and City Recorder, has announced his candidacy for the office of justice of the peace of Oceanside township. John L. Nugent, incumbent, is also a candidate for re-election. Nugent has been the justice of San Luis Rey township for several years. Recently Oceanside was segregated from the trio of towns composing the township, and now has a township of its own.

The Oceanside W.C.T.U. has elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. Arthur Cook is president, Mrs. Alice White, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Scott, secretary, and Mrs. M. A. Shall, treasurer.

Extensive development work is being planned for the South Oceanside and Carlsbad sections of the coast country, to which the South Coast Land Company is extending water mains from the San Luis Rey River. The Oceanside Electric and Gas Company has been asked to extend its lines to the section.

FISH STORY.

While fishing near Moonstone Beach, J. J. Raymond of Victoria, B.C., brought to gaff the season's record yellowtail, weighing fifty-three and one-quarter pounds.

Mr. Raymond is 71 years of age and is proud of his accomplishment, as he landed the fish unaided and entered it in competition for the untackable class prizes of the Tuna Club.

AN AGREEMENT.
 The militant suffragettes of England are meeting at Westminster Abbey. Why not consent to have them all buried there immediately, and let the proposition rest?

A CLEAR COAST.
 A Carranza has resumed his place at the head of his troops and has decided to march on to Juarez. He must be perfectly satisfied as to the whereabouts of Pancho Villa, Sylvia Pankhurst and John Lind.

ROBERT'S LITTLE JOKE.
 It is a cinch that Robert Louis Stevenson never anticipated the fact of eugenics. He pleasantly remarks that most men are naturally more concerned about the follies of their ancestors than they are about the welfare of posterity.

WHAT'S THE ODDS?
 The Democrats are mightily worried because one of the men who wants to be postmaster of Los Angeles knows how to run the job. We are sorry for this. We had hoped the Democrats might be willing to make at least one minor exception in their administration.

IN A SAD WAY.
 England is a distressed nation. Sylvia Pankhurst is obliged to attend the suffrage demonstrations on a stretcher and there would be war in Ulster if the British officers did not resign on arriving there. Great Britain ought to give a peace conference and attend in a body.

THE NEW GAME.
 There can be no new game with women in it. A Philadelphia woman has invented one which is designed to teach men the importance of the female of the species. She calls it "Women are trumps." We call her attention to the fact that in the game of hearts the object is not to take a trick.

STOP HER.
 Mother Mary Jones, the militant strike leader, left Denver for Trinidad in defiance of military orders. We hope they catch her and keep her there. She is just as near California as is comfortable. If she ever got into the Los Angeles River bed with the L.W.W. outfit she would be in a permanent state of distress and disturbance.

UP IN SMOKE.
 It is astonishing what damage fire can do. The blaze that consumed the college hall at Wellesley destroyed six years of work of a woman professor, on the heredity of beetles and three years of work of another woman on the brains of ants. If the same fire hadn't destroyed several works on eugenics it would be entirely without compensatory palliation.

HARDLY NECESSARY.
 Friends of Arizona Charley Meadows are putting themselves out to deny the report of his death. This is a waste of good negation. We have just consulted a map and found that Yuma and the Colorado River are both on it. As long as these features of the landscape remain there is not the slightest danger of Charley Meadows vanishing. He is, so to speak, the background for the other two institutions.

UNLIMITED.
 Long Beach generously offers to unite its harbor with that of Los Angeles or San Pedro, and Washington will decide the question. It would be as well to agree to the proposition of Long Beach at once, no matter what it is, before they decide to annex the Golden Gate and the locked harbor of San Diego. If they got put out about this they would have half of Washington believing that California is located on a strip of the Long Beach industrial site.

NOT AT ALL.
 We see that some official says he is making it easy for settlers by compiling information. The average homeseeker gets here with so much information he can't carry it and it takes about four years of homesteading to get rid of his excess baggage. Finally he wakes up to the fact that his mule, his wife and his well pump are the only facts he needs and he rides twenty miles to invite his nearest neighbor to a bonfire consisting entirely of a choice selection of statistics on the profits of homesteading. After that, with the aid of his wife, his well and his mule he settles down to a comfortable and profitable existence—often in the nearest good town.

THE AMENDE.
 In the House of Commons on Thursday Sir Edward Carson so far forgot the proprieties of parliamentary debate as to characterize a statement made by Joseph Devlin, the Irish parliamentary leader, as an infamous lie. A few minutes reflection convinced Sir Edward that in the excitement of discussion he had gone too far and he modified his language so as merely to state that Devlin had uttered a "willful falsehood." Whether Devlin was satisfied with this apology is not stated.

The incident is not unlike that which occurred in Arizona when James Reilly of Tombstone said that Charley Beach of Prescott was an immediate male descendant of a lady dog. Afterwards he modified this statement by saying that the mother of Beach lacked a marriage certificate, that his father's name was Beach, and that he was the son of a bachelor.

ABOLISHING THE CANAL.
 A Senator Chilton, of West Virginia, Democrat, who has no constituents interested in either American shipping or trans-continental railroad rates, made a speech in the Senate in behalf of the Canadian Pacific railroad, the Suez Canal and Sir Edward Grey's demand for a repeal of the toll exemption law, which speech he concluded with the following eloquent and patriotic (?) utterances:

"As a nation we cannot afford to rest under the imputation, whether just or unjust, of disregarding our plighted honor, nor should we hold a debatable position far enough to arouse friction, resentment or retaliation."

"Far better to abolish the canal itself than even to permit our national honor to remain in question."

Robert Burns's rule of conduct was "where'er ye feel your honor grip let that aye be the order." The Chilton motto is "where'er the other fellow tells you that you ought to let your honor grip let that impel you to do whatever the other fellow demands that you shall do."

And above all you must not "arouse friction, resentment or retaliation." If the exclusion of Japanese from land ownership in the United States arouses friction with the government of the Mikado, then open the gates to Asiatics. If the pure food law excluding rotten cheese causes Germany to feel resentment, then in the name of a thousand smells let in the limburger. If a tariff on Geneva watches provokes Switzerland to retaliate by sending her battleships to bombard our forts, then place Swiss watches on the free list. If any act of Congress is likely to disgruntle the Akkond of Swat, repeal it.

It would be a pity to "abolish" the canal. It would cost a lot of money to fill it up and blow it up, but it would, according to the gasconading Senator from West Virginia, be better to do so rather than permit Sir Edward Grey or Habibullah Khan, the Ameer of Afghanistan, or Muley Yusuf, the Emperor of Morocco, or Dhirajal Tribhuhana Shamsar Jang, the Maharajah of Nepal, or anybody else to question our "national honor."

It is by no means certain that the Princeton professor may not succeed in procuring the repeal of the toll exemption clause in the Panama Canal law. Of course in order to do so he will have to eat his own words and smash to flinders the platform on which he was elected. But he has the pie-counter for a club, and the shipping trust, and the trans-continental railroad pool, with millions of money to be used in corrupting Congress, behind him. And against him there is only his own consistency, about which he cares nothing, and the revival of American commerce, about which he cares less than nothing, if that were possible.

Let Woodrow Wilson be assured, however, that there is a God for Israel, and if he shall succeed in abasing the American people at the feet of Great Britain he never can hold them there. They will arise out of the dust of their humiliation and send him back to teaching school, if he can find a job of that kind open to him—which is doubtful.

HAIL, ALASKA!
 The Times congratulates the people of Alaska upon the passage by Congress of the bill providing for the construction by the United States of railroads in that Territory at a cost of $35,000,000.

It is the dawn of a new era for the land of the midnight sun. Her magnificent resources of coal and timber which for years have been helpless and almost hopeless in the clutch of Pinchot and his Pocahontas Coal Company and the Northwestern lumber trust, will now be developed. Her copper deposits will be worked and smelted with her own coke, and her gold mines will, with facilities for cheap working, treble or quadruple their yield.

In Los Angeles those householders who prefer an open grate coal fire to a gas or kerosene stove will be able to indulge in such when they can buy Alaskan coal at half the price they now pay for coal from Colorado or New Mexico or Puget Sound and Southern California will have an increased market in Alaskan towns for her orchard and field and vineyard products.

The United States paid Russia $7,000,000 for Alaska. In gold, and furs, and fish the Territory has yielded up to this date over $200,000,000, and it attained such development as it has achieved not only without aid from the government of the United States, but in despite of the restrictive policies which until now have been steadily pursued toward it.

Alaska is underlaid by beds of both bituminous and anthracite coal of the best quality, which could be profitably mined and shipped by water to any port on the Pacific Ocean, if railroad communication existed between the coast and the coal deposits. Private capital would have constructed such roads years ago if the Pinchot gang had not intervened in behalf of the Pocahontas Coal Company, and, with the cry of "conservation," checked the attempts of private capital to obtain title to the Alaskan coal deposits.

The coal land laws were extended to Alaska fourteen years ago, but the coal lands were not surveyed and no provisions were made for surveying them. In 1904 Congress provided for the entry of unsurveyed lands provided the locator would defray the cost of a survey by a government surveyor. But the law was purposely rendered valueless for entries were limited to 160 acres, and no person could make more than one entry. The coal lands, except of the Katalla and Manataska fields, were so remote from the coast as to be of no value without facilities for railroad transportation, and no capitalist would consider a proposition to build a railroad from tide-water to 160 acres of coal land hundreds of miles distant.

The law permitted the grouping of tracts to which patents had been issued. The coal lands of Katalla and Manataska were near the coast, and by 1906 170,000 acres were located there and railroad construction to them was begun.

Then Pinchot came forward with his campaign for "conservation of natural resources." With money furnished by Colorado and New Mexico coal owners, whose monopoly of California was menaced by the mining of Alaska coal, he induced the government officials in Alaska to ignore the law of 1904, and in 1906 President Roosevelt suspended it, not only for the future, but also as to entries made under it—for which the government had received pay for lands upon which development work had been done. The President had no power to make such an order, but no court had jurisdiction to entertain a suit against the United States to annul it. In 1907 Congress passed a law to permit the grouping of enough claims to warrant the expenditure of opening a coal mine. President Roosevelt killed the law with a pocket veto. In 1908 Congress enacted a law allowing grouping of claims to the extent of 3560 acres where the entries had been made prior to 1906. But, like the cow who first gives a pail of milk and then kicks it over, Congress tacked on a provision that if any lands purchased under it should at any time be controlled so as to effect a combination in the form of a trust, the title should be forfeited to the United States. That made it impossible to obtain money with which to open coal lands in Alaska, and build railroads to them.

In 1910 Congress passed an act authorizing the President in his discretion to "temporarily withdraw" any of the public lands in Alaska. President Taft thereupon issued an order confirming the suspension order of President Roosevelt made in 1906.

LONG-TIME NOMINATION.
 The leading idea of the Progressives as enunciated by their leaders, is to do away with conventions, and caucuses, and "boss rule," and let the "people" nominate the candidates for public office.

They do not say specifically how many people shall do the work of nominating. In California five are necessary: Earl, Guy, Eddie, Rowell, Lissner and Johnson have selected the State ticket, and two of the candidates—Johnson and Eschman—are running, running like a scared wolf when a collie dog is driving him away from the shepherd—for particulars read the registration returns.

The Progressive nominations in California have been made only eight months in advance of the election. They have not been so dilatory in the national organization. Two years and eleven months was considered by the "leaders" as not too much time to give to their campaign for the Presidency. They met in convention in Chicago on December 9 last, and formally nominated Theodore Roosevelt as the Progressive candidate for the Presidency in 1916.

At present the nominee is stamping in Patagonia, but he will be back within a year or so with a lot of stuffed cougars and live monkeys and we will all be delighted to welcome him and his menagerie.

STATESMAN.
WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

They do not sow, they do not reap, they do not shear the gentle sheep, or milk the sassy-cow; they do not build, they do not till, they toll not in the noisy mill, nor guide the mule-drawn plow. We've heard them tell us we are grand, the bone and sinew of the land, and we have cheered and grinned; but words were all we ever got from all that smiling statesman lot, for all they sell is wind. We take our produce to the store, and haul it twenty miles or more, to get provisions thinned; but statesmen get all things they need, the very finest goods, indeed, and all they pay is wind. We work till we are halt and blind, and if we get a month behind, threats in our ears are dinned; but statesmen do not work at all; they loaf in palace and in hall, and square the bill with wind. They drink the noblest wines of Spain, and eat the butter of the Dane, and fruits from tropic land; the luxuries of every land are evermore at their command, and all they pay is wind. What chumps we are, to toil and strain, and worry till we go insane, supporting such a group of parasites, who live at ease while we are spavining our knees to get the children soup!

GLOBE SIGHTS.
 [Athens Globe:] And some men feel so good they are impudent. People start just early enough to be too late. A fan's enthusiasm is apt to make him unfair. The more one urges people not to worry the more they worry. There is considerable talk about justice when mercy is the real need. A photographer is a kind-hearted person who gets paid for his fatuity. A quarrel you don't want advertised is probably the most difficult secret to keep. The reason most men don't succeed in life is because they want to start on high. Some men who put great enjoyment in religion manage to find business before pleasure, all right. Many men have a few Mormon notions, but they don't like the idea of marrying a whole family. Women are often jealous without occasion; comparatively few men are in danger of being kidnapped by chorus girls. You probably know twelve men, and can judge about how much prejudice there is bound to be in the average jury.

One Mistake Enough.

Tight Purse Strings.
 [Kansas City Star:] "What means this dear political economy?" asked Rastus, who was endeavoring to wade through a paper. "Frum de way de politicians down oah wald is actin'," answered Rufus. "I spects it means de mos' votes fob de least money."

WHAT CONFINES?
 BY KATHERINE GRAY.

What confines? That question should be applied to all things and conditions of life. Not merely what confines my existence to this particular city or country, but what is that boundary line that keeps the mass of men and women from attaining those pinnacles of development toward which our civilization lifts its eyes?

If we take development for our reason for being, what then restricts it? Why are not more people reaching the heights? Surely the few that do are no more vivid, living sparks, flashing out from the glow of a great flame than are some others whose course is less stellar.

What is it that enables these few to find the heights? The lack of confinement. But what does this signify? Surely it does not mean that we should be unmoral, unobscured, of sensible customs, of law or nature. The examples of that sort of supposed freedom generally meet with condemnation of the worst kind in complete ostracism from their fellow-men. The kernel seems further under shell than that.

When we say freedom do we simply mean the capacity for joy, for life, the out-of-door life as a dance? Or do we mean to have our freedom of a different kind, of a quality generally considered finer because less material? Is it to be radical and progressive thought, delving far into the problems of the future, which will help to lighten the cares of our people and govern them more fitly? Surely such freedom is to be commended.

Yet, on retrospection, do we find that it is the greatest thinkers who are the greatest leaders of the ages? Even that brand of freedom has a confining element of the physical, a binding tie of materiality. Do we not find the real leaders of men spoken of as members of the purple, as those of the wonderful spirit?

That word spirit implies a great deal. To some it means merely a sort of indefinable personality; to others a peculiar mental fascination, and to others, with a smile on their lips, a religious crank. Yet the world's leaders are still the leaders. What is their secret? May it not be that through some phase of being, a great sorrow, or, perhaps, some wondrous joy that burst asunder for a moment all earth's prison states, these leaders of ours have seen the reality of spirit? Not that they took no thought of material things, of food and clothing, but that these things did not constitute for them the full meaning of life. They lived not by bread alone, and were conscious of a handiwork of truth. They, too, loved the ability of physical freedom—the good out-of-doors, the sweet winds, the fresh ocean, the deep canyons and the sun-sunlit mountains.

But besides their joy in the spirit of things, never-ending wonders they also had work well done, thoughts well conceived, comradeships of friends, all blending into the perfect joy of love.

But what fairly wild turns the dross of the world to gold for them? Is it not their own spirit? To them the out-of-doors is good; the green grass and flowers leave their fragrance in the heart, and the rustling leaves and singing waters leave their music on the mind.

Yet is that completeness? No, for all these things that appeal so gently to the senses are only messengers from the one great spirit of Love, only a few rare petals falling from amaranthine bowers. The sparkle of eyes, the clasp of a hand, a hearty laugh, the quick reasoning of a trained mind—more petals falling from celestial flowers. But confinement to that? No; those things are comradeships of the flesh, the bud but not unfolding. Then comes this elusive something called spirit. It is unconfined. Nothing but life as it is will accept this new thing. Pleasure for pleasure, but not to drown oneself in, or you are thereby confined; books, the big out-of-doors, persons, joy, sorrow, yet a life of the spirit, the life of the spirit, the life of the spirit. To them the out-of-doors is good; the green grass and flowers leave their fragrance in the heart, and the rustling leaves and singing waters leave their music on the mind.

These people, no matter what their work, learn to see, accept and make a part of themselves the beauty, the value and life of all phenomena and all qualities and touch their being. To them nothing can happen that does not bring good—perhaps not in immediate results, but the spirit takes heed of that call and remembers its notes, so that when it passes along the lanes again, or even, perchance, far from there, that call will be remembered and the goodness, the greatness, the pain or the gladness of that reflected experience will be touched by the spirit wand into beauty sublime.

So seeing, they are not confined. To them all things bring some small pebble with which to build the stone walls of a character that is worth while. They are not physical alone, yet the love and understanding of persons ennobles their life; they are not mental only, yet conversation (bubbles in the wine of the mind) and the answers of questions well-reasoned balance their own mentality and sharpen its edge.

These lovers of the intangible loveliness, these idealists, if you will, give out a feeling, a subtle essence that is not to be found in a smile, and yet is back of a smile; it is not in thought, yet thought may convey its message; it is not in their work, yet their work may wonderfully carry its shadow. "They wear all crowns, even the crown of thorns." They conquer because they know that there is no point of existence at which they are not upheld by the spirit, not in which they believe, but of which, through acknowledgment, they are forever sure. Could the lesson not be learned? Could we not also be leaders? Why not admit, at least to ourselves, how wonderful we are?

How Far to Europe?
 [New York Times:] The German Geodetic Institute at Potsdam and the Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington are engaged in an interesting attempt to determine on an accurate basis the distance between America and Europe. The new measurements are based on the theory that the earth is not constructed on a so-called rigid system, but contains a certain degree of elasticity. Doubts are said to have arisen in the minds of geographers in recent times as to the supposed unchangeability in distance between the continents.

The Washington authorities have undertaken to measure the distance between the American capital and Horta, in the Azores, while the Potsdam Institute will take up the stretch between the Azores and Berlin.

BABY QUESTIONS.
What do angels do, dear mother?
Way up in heaven bright?
Oh, they sing and laugh and play,
From morning until night!

But tell me, mother darling,
What are the games they play?
Oh, many wonderful games, you say,
And new games every day!

And do they play in meadows
And under big green trees?
Yes, dear, and they walk in gardens
Among flowers, birds and bees.

And what do they do when they're
Of walking about in the snow?
Why, they sit down and tell stories
For hours and hours and hours.

Oh, aren't they happy, mother,
Away off in the sky?
Yes, they are happy, sweetest,
But not more blest than I!

But when they're in their beds,
And God turns down the light,
What do the angels dream of,
When they go to sleep at night?

They dream, my child, that love
Is brighter than the stars;
They dream that love grows strong
And wake to find it true!

And wake to find it true!
And wake to find it true!
And wake to find it true!
And wake to find it true!

JAMES E. WILSON

Seventy Foot Pavement.

given these proposals several hearings and all details seem to have been pretty well gone over. The hearing yesterday was simply on the same lines as those heretofore held.

As a compromise measure the committee proposes that a street 160 feet wide shall be established. The report was placed before the Council yesterday and action on the report is to be taken on April 23.

A unanimous vote of this postponement was recorded after various amendments had been proposed. The belief that adoption of the 160-foot plan is the only way to get action started on the improvement of what is certain to be a great thoroughfare for the west and northwest. Some of the members urged immediate action in the adoption of the report, but in the hope that both factions can be brought to an agreement within the coming month, the delay was finally agreed upon.

"WE RECOMMEND."
The Public Works Committee's report goes into various phases of the situation. It says:

Your Public Works Committee, to whom were referred various petitions regarding the widening of West First street from Fremont avenue to Vermont avenue westerly to the west city limits, beg to report as follows:

To refresh the memory of your honorable body we beg to advise you that a petition was circulated and presented to the Council asking that the street be widened and improved to a width of 120 feet. About February 4, 1914, a petition No. 230 was filed with C. C. Jones, et al, asking that the street be improved to its present width of eighty-two and one-half feet with the sidewalks reduced ten feet in place of twelve feet, leaving a width of sixty-two and one-half feet.

Numerous hearings have been had before the Public Works Committee and this committee has listened to remarks by property owners in favor of a 120-foot street and others in favor of an eighty-two and one-half-foot street. A feeling of compromise was manifested at one of the meetings and your committee is of the opinion that a 160-foot street would meet the requirements of the majority of property owners within the assessment district.

We further recommend that the City Engineer and City Attorney be instructed to prepare and present to the Council the ordinance of intention for the widening of First street from Fremont avenue to Vermont avenue westerly to the west city limits to a width of 160 feet, and we transmit herewith a map showing the proposed assessment district, which, in the opinion of your committee, should be the assessment district to be called upon to pay the cost of widening the land necessary for the widening of said streets and we suggest that the City Engineer in making the assessment district follow lot lines and take in both sides of all streets outlined in said map.

THE ORDINANCE.
As to the paving of First street and Temple street, we recommend that the City Engineer be instructed to prepare the necessary ordinance for the paving of said First street from Fremont street to Vermont avenue westerly to the west city limits, and in said ordinance to provide for a roadway of seventy feet wide and curbs and that in said ordinance of intention the curbs be included in the proceedings, and such catch-basins as the Engineer deems necessary.

We further recommend that the Engineer provide for the establishment of the grades on said street so as to make a traffic grade not to exceed 5 per cent, avoiding as much as possible cuts in front of property.

Four committees is of the opinion that the Council should immediately proceed to the paving of this street and not wait for the condemnation proceedings for the widening to be completed, and we further recommend that the paving of these streets to the width of seventy feet, insofar as the present dedicated street will permit, eliminating the paving of portions of said street, which will not permit of the roadway being paved to its full width, be started immediately.

You will note that no reference is made to sidewalk and we are of the opinion that the question of sidewalk can be handled better after the street is widened to its full width, to wit: 160 feet.

We have eliminated from this report any reference to the construction of a viaduct across Lake Shore avenue at First street, for, in the opinion of your committee and the property owners, this should not be a feature in this improvement.

The assessment district to pay for the paving to be all of the property facing on the proposed improvement and to be one half block back, excepting in cases where storm drains are to be constructed, then an assessment district which will be satisfactory to the City Engineer. This matter, however, will again come before this committee for its approval prior to the adoption of the ordinance of intention.

The subject matter in question has given a great deal of attention and consideration by your committee and we trust that your honorable body will concur in this report and instruct the City Engineer and City Attorney to place on file and have the maps heretofore presented by the City Engineer be returned to him for his file.

CLEAN-UP IS COMPLETE.
Government Officials Capture a Lame and Rattle Gang Engaged in Smuggling Contrabands.

The gasoline launch, Capodano, alleged to have made the landing of thirty Chinese contrabands at Wilmington on the night of the 13th inst., was captured at San Diego yesterday afternoon by an immigration inspector, and the vessel placed in charge of Federal officers, to be followed later by condemnation proceedings.

Just before the boat was picked up Sam Wing was arrested at Oceanview and brought to this city for a hearing on the charge of smuggling contrabands. It is asserted that Wing is the leader of the gang; that with Charles Culver, Chew Ping and Bill Freeman, landed the party at Wilmington. Wing is an old offender.

Within forty-eight hours after the landing of the Capodano at Wilmington Capt. Charles T. Connell, immigration inspector, had a line on the boat. The boat was engaged in the trade. She was chased to San Diego, but went to sea on a fishing excursion and returned yesterday afternoon in command of her owner, Dominick Samileppo, who was taken into custody with the boat.

The Capodano is a thirty-five foot long, equipped with a fifty horse power engine and seaworthy in every respect. She will be libeled by the government and forfeited to the owner, Samileppo. This cleanup of the entire crowd engaged in the latest smuggling job. The principals are all in jail, and the thirty Chinese are ready for deportation.

HOSE THAT WON'T CRACK

Note How Crackproof Hose Is Made

The Hose that will not Leak or Kink

"Bower's Crackproof" hose consists of a seamless pure rubber tube, over which is braided a seamless fabric of cotton yarn. This in turn is covered by a layer of pure sheet rubber, followed by a second braided seamless cotton fabric and a final layer of extra tough rubber which forms the outer cover and protects against wear and weather.

Bower's Crackproof Hose

may be twisted into any shape without shutting off the flow of water and without kinking. It will never crack and its braided cotton fabric will stand a test pressure of more than 500 pounds per square inch. The diagonal direction of the strands gives a flexibility that prevents injurious kinking.

Woman Tipping Scales at Quarter-Thousand Pounds Gives Detectives Hard Tussle When Arrested.

The biggest woman ever arrested in the city gave tussle to three detectives yesterday when she was taken into custody in a department store on the charge of shoplifting. She weighs 250 pounds.

Her name is Mrs. Sarah Ochsenoff, No. 1012 Rochester street. It is charged that she was shopping yesterday in the department store, and was caught by the Hattie detectives located her activities and proceeded to arrest her. Two women detectives ambushed her, one on each side, and a male detective came up from the rear.

The fruit was unblocked, and with the three clinging to her like barnacles the strong woman made for the street, carrying the detectives with her. They climbed over her, tugged and pulled in their efforts to stop her. It made no difference, and only a crowd of spectators could successfully restrain her.

The police had to wait five minutes before the detectives could regain their breath to accompany the woman to the Police Station. The police matron welcomed her with a kind smile. There is much work to be done in that ward, and women are scarce for the time.

Pernoll Believes Fanning and Losses.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, March 23.—The Chicago Goofs had to come here to break the winning streak of the Seals, thereby demonstrating they are more at home away from the large centers than in them. At that, it took the Chicagoans twelve innings to cut loose from the scoreless tie of the afternoon and bring about a result.

Luckily for the Chicagoans, they tallied twice in that twelfth inning, for the Seals themselves had a rush and came through with a tally, making the final 2 to 1.

It was the most brilliant baseball played on the western trip by either of the Chicago teams so far as local fans have had an opportunity of seeing.

Hub Pernoll pitched for the Seals when Fanning was waved aside as having already performed a day's work and it was left to Pernoll in the box that the Goofs registered their winning runs in the twelfth.

The Spokane crowd came in with the Chicagoans this morning at the Southern Pacific. Naturally, with a game scheduled, they did no training, but watched results. Danny Rhau was pressed into service as umpire, but otherwise the Indians had on their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes and appeared in the role of spectators.

The scores:

	AB	R	H	E	P	O	A
Fanning	20	0	0	0	0	0	0

COAST RECORDS TO BE WELL LISTED.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Committees representing the Pacific Northwest Association, the Pacific Athletic Association, and the Southern Pacific Athletic Association, the three branches of the Amateur Athletic Union on this coast, are arranging by correspondence the first official set of Pacific Coast amateur records ever compiled. This fact was made known here today by the chairman of the Records Committee of the Pacific Athletic Association, who explained that this had become necessary because of conflicting and inaccurate claims to Coast records.

The list will include all intercollegiate, interclub and straight amateur records in indoor, outdoor track and field and swimming events. The list will be kept up annually by a joint committee of the three organizations.

BOY ATHLETES STRUGGLE FOR HONORS AT Y.M.C.A.

LAST night was the opening night of the Y.M.C.A. triangle inter-club indoor tournament in the Y.M.C.A. gym. After being there for three hours one had the feeling of going through a cyclone, earthquake and flood. Some thousands, more or less, young athletes tore around the building, engaged in playing everything from dominoes to indoor baseball.

Four clubs formed out of the gym classes entered in this tournament, which lasts four nights and in the end a splendid silver cup will be presented to the club scoring the most points in the entire affair. This is the first appearance of what will now be an annual affair.

The Twentieth Century and George Williams clubs are composed of High School boys, while the Royal Working Boys and Broadway clubs represent the working boys' classes in the Y.M.C.A. About the only sport not included in this tournament is yacht racing, and that is only barred on account of the limited space. Handball, pocket billiards, billiards, ping-pong, basketball, indoor baseball, dominoes, checkers, swimming and diving, bowling, rope-climbing and track and field events are spread out over the four nights.

Last night Grover (B) defeated Kahler (R.W.B.) 59 to 19 in billiards while Lewis (B) won the semi-finals of pocket billiards from Kruger (T.C.) 59 to 23. Christy and Wallace (G.W.) with 4-4, 1-1 wins over Snodgrass (T.W.) and the R.W.B. Club won the indoor baseball title by defeating the G.W. Club 16 to 15. Madden (H.) won the checkers championship. The first basketball game went to the Broadway Club, when they won from the Twentieth Century 24 to 6. Parkhurst (T.C.) captured the standing high jump with a three-foot, eleven-inch jump.

SPORTSMAN'S SHOW TO BE HELD HERE THIS SUMMER.

AN OUTING and sportsman's show has been announced for Los Angeles, May 18 to 31. An immense tent is to be erected at Fiesta Park and amid a setting of redwood trees there will be exhibited everything that appeals to the lover of sports and the great outdoors.

Walter Hempel has the exhibit in charge and promises one of the most attractive and spectacular displays ever held in the West.

There will be tanks for diving and swimming, pools for fly-casting, a display of wild fowl, athletic games and exhibits typifying the resorts of the West, from the snow fields of the north to the game fish resorts of the southern sea.

Hempel is working out elaborate plans for the show, and as it will be the first sportsman's show held in the West, it is certain to attract much attention. In many ways it will be patterned after the sportsman's shows of the East. These are annual events that are anxiously looked forward to by sportsmen and the outdoors.

There is a greater opportunity for such a show in California than at any other place in the world. This is a typical country of the outdoors. Every day in the year the lovers of different sports and games can indulge in their favorite pastimes. One open season merges into another and the thousands who love the mountains are either after wild game or trout, while the deep-sea fishing calls to the lovers of that sport.

This show will be typical of every outdoor sport. The exhibit of fish and game will be interesting and educational. Each display will be in charge of an expert, who will lecture on the afternoon and evening. There will be lessons in fly-casting and all kinds of fishing, and Manager Hempel is considering an application for a golf net.

A hunting guides' convention will be another event that will draw from sections of the West. The guides will meet during this show to consider the many questions that come up annually. These men have been responsible for many successful hunts and the improvement of the game laws.

One section of the show will be devoted to resorts alone. In this section will be miniature camps and displays showing the beauties and attractions of the various resorts on the Coast.

A Day's Work.

FEDERALS ADOPT SCHEDULE AND DISCUSS THEIR POLICY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BALTIMORE, March 23.—The playing schedule of the Federal League was adopted tonight at a meeting here of the officials of the league. It was announced it probably would be given out the latter part of this week.

April 19 was decided upon as the opening day and the opening day programme probably will be as follows: Chicago at St. Louis, Brooklyn at Pittsburgh, Indianapolis at Kansas City, Buffalo at Baltimore.

The most important business at the meeting other than drafting of the schedule was the determination to apply for an injunction to restrain Piffner from playing with the Cleveland American League club.

Heart Trouble.

COLORADO E, FAMOUS TROTTER, DROPS DEAD.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

DENVER, March 23.—Colorado E, a 2:04 trotting record, valued at something like $100,000, and the property of George H. Eustabrook of Denver, dropped dead in his stall at Overland Park race track here this afternoon at 4 o'clock from heart disease.

The horse had been suffering since Thursday with influenza, but had apparently recovered from his illness this morning.

Colorado E was a magnificent bay stallion and was in charge of Trainer Fred Egan, one of the most experienced trainers in the West. The horse has been in Kentucky for several seasons. He was being cared for by a veterinarian in Denver in the event of sending him after still further honors at the Grand Circuit this coming season.

The Denver Fair and Racing Association so highly regarded Colorado E and were so anxious to have Denver people see him in action that a special purse of $500 was hung up for an exhibition by this magnificent animal during the coming race meet here.

CAMBRIDGE CHOICE OVER THEIR RIVALS

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, March 23.—The Oxford and Cambridge crews entered today the last week of training for their annual eight-oared race over the famous 4½-mile course from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames.

Thus far everything has favored Cambridge for the big event on March 23, the crew being the best developed at that university for years. The reverse has been the case with the Oxford men, who were for a long time unable to decide either upon the composition of the crew or on the positions of the oarsmen.

The only advantage the dark blues have is that they have more men of experience in their boat. The crews follow:

Cambridge—Bow, D. I. Day, Lady Margaret College; No. 2, J. E. Swann, Trinity Hall; No. 3, F. C. Livingston, Jesus; No. 4, J. A. Hinson, First Trinity; No. 5, K. G. Garnett, First Trinity; No. 6, C. S. Clark, Pembroke; No. 7, G. E. Y. Burton, Third Trinity; stroke, G. A. Tower, Third Trinity; coxswain, L. E. Bidley, Jesus.

Oxford—Bow, H. W. Fletcher, Balliol; No. 2, H. Burdett, New College; No. 3, J. E. Ward, New College; No. 4, E. D. Horsfall, Magdalen; No. 5, J. R. Kindersley, Exeter; No. 6, A. F. B. Wiggins, New College; No. 7, G. W. Titherington, Queen's; stroke, F. A. H. Pittman, New College; coxswain, H. B. Wells, Magdalen.

POLY AND MANUAL MEET TOMORROW.

Tomorrow afternoon Poly High's baseball team will renew its feud with the Manual A's squad at Washington Park. Last week these two teams met in the first game of the city league series and after it was all over they were still unconvinced as to the best team. Both sides played great ball and darkness at the end of the ninth inning stopped the game with the score tied one all. While the Artisans outbid the Mechanics they failed to outplay them and it will be a desperate affair when they meet for the second time.

ABLE will probably do the pitch for the Poly boys while Stewart looks like Manual's best bet. Stewart held the Mechanics to three hits in the game last Wednesday and had twelve of his opponents hitting the trail to the bench after ineffective swings at the plate. Able pulled out of a dangerous situation in the first inning and had the Manual sluggers tamed throughout the rest of the game.

JIMMY COLLINS TO CONFER WITH FEDS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BOSTON, March 23.—Jimmy Collins, star third baseman for many years, and manager of the world champion Boston Americans of 1903, today said he would go to Buffalo on Sunday to confer with the owners of the Federal League franchise regarding his acceptance of the management of that team. Collins said he would be a candidate for third base position if he became manager.

STORM DELAYS
HIGHWAY WORK.

Road to Mt. Wilson's Summit Needs Breadth.

Another Railroad Official Joins Pasadena Colony.

Two-Million-Dollar Railroad Bond Issue Proposed.

PARADENA, March 24.—Because of the setback caused by the recent storm and of other delays, it has been decided not to attempt to complete the widening of the road to the summit of Mt. Wilson this year. The road will again be opened to traffic in about two weeks and the remainder of the work that the Carnegie Observatory officials set out to do accomplished next winter.

The purpose in thus widening the road is that the large castings for the proposed 100-inch telescope may be hauled to the summit, and so that there may be plenty of room to take up the priceless lens itself, which is now at the shops of the observatory in the city. However, Prof. W. S. Adams said last night, the first shipments of the steel work will now come from Chicago and it is felt by the astronomers to be desirable that they should be taken to the top of the mountain without delay.

Four feet is to be added to the width of the road. The work was begun at the bottom and five miles of it has already been accomplished. There remain four miles more of the road to be widened.

Prof. George E. Hale expects to leave for Washington, D. C., in a few days to attend a meeting of the National Academy of Sciences there.

CONTINUE TO COME.

Still another prominent railroad man of the East has joined the Pasadena colony for a few weeks. He is James T. Clark, vice-president of the Chicago & Northwestern line, who is at the Hotel Green, where Mrs. Clark has been staying for some time. He arrived yesterday in his private car from St. Paul.

Clark has been connected with the road of which he is an official for forty-two years. He is considered one of the railway authorities of the country. He declared yesterday that business conditions in the East are good and that the crop in the Middle West has added greatly to the prosperity of that section.

ALL IN FINE FEATHERS.

The high jinks of the year at the Hotel Raymond took place last night when a ball was given by Walter Raymond, owner of the hotel, for the employees. This is an annual affair and it is always an enjoyable one for the guests as for those for whom it is given, though the former are not permitted to dance. Only the employees themselves and their friends may take part in it.

The pleasure of this year's affair was heightened by the fact that it was a masquerade, and one replete with surprises. Raymond planned several and some of the employees sought to outdo him with others. The grand march was led by a German band composed of employees at the hotel and a miniature "Chauffeur" was presented when several of the young ladies appeared in the form of canary birds and whistled delightfully for the entertainment of all.

TALK IN BIG FIGURES.

At a special meeting of the Pasadena Realty Board, which took the form of a dinner at the Hotel Green last night, City Commissioners Metcalf and Halliburton asked the board to unite with other civic organizations of Pasadena in appointing a joint committee, which shall consider the plans for a municipal electric railway between Pasadena and Los Angeles.

There were references to a possible issuance of bonds to the extent of $2,000,000 by the city, and Robert Allen, who was secretary to former Mayor Thum, made the suggestion that the Pacific Electric Railway Company be asked to take over the proposed road itself and turn over to the city its local lines. Another suggestion, made by J. C. Brannard, and concurred in by others, was that an office be treated and some one engaged to work on the project in a systematic manner. Macpherson was present and described his plans.

The upshot of the evening's discussion was that the Realty Board voted that it would then consider the members of the proposed joint committee of Pasadena civic organizations, but leave this to the Commissioners, and that it would co-operate with them in every way possible.

NOT OLD ENOUGH YET.

Thomas H. Wheeler of New York, former vice-president of the Standard Oil Company, who is staying at the Hotel Huntington, is 60 years of age, but he says he is not yet old enough to be considered old.

"There's nothing the matter with my health," he said yesterday when urged by Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul to enter a foursome. "Why should I go out there and chase a ball all over the lot? No, though I am 60 years old, I am not old enough to play golf."

CITY BRIEFS.

The City Commission yesterday again considered the proposed establishment of a new district in the city, with the result that the commissioners have about decided that the first district shall have Center street as its northernmost boundary and that special permits shall be issued to all industrial plants already established north of that street; that the second district shall extend along the Salt Lake Railroad tracks and include only the territory now actually used and owned by industrial organizations and companies.

D. B. Plummer, manager of the Hotel Green, yesterday turned over to the Pasadena Charitable League the proceeds of the musical tea held at the hotel last Friday.

Tomorrow evening a Hawaiian dinner-dance will be held at the Hotel Huntington. Native Hawaiians will give a vaudeville programme in the dining room, to be followed by dancing in the ballroom.

Several parties of Hotel Huntington guests are spending a few days at the hotel on Mt. Wilson. One is composed of Mrs. James R. Reis, Miss Harriet Reis, Miss Elizabeth Reis and W. E. Reis, Jr., all of Greenwich, Ct.

WOMAN'S BODY COMES ASHORE.

Remains of Miss Brouillette Restored to Friends.

Recently Ended Life While Temporarily Deranged.

Dr. Walker Has Trouble in Leaving Atlanta.

LONG BEACH, March 23.—Coming out of Alamitos Bay with the ebb tide, the body of Miss Annie Brouillette, wealthy spinster, was found at Alamitos Inlet this afternoon by A. L. Havens, a special deputy sheriff. Two hours later the body, badly decomposed, was identified by means of the clothing by a sister of the dead woman. After an investigation, the police declared that the woman committed suicide by drowning. She disappeared from the Long Beach sanatorium on the night of March 11.

Miss Brouillette was 50 years old. She taught music at Boise, Idaho, and came to live with her sisters, Mrs. J. H. Jett and Mrs. C. F. Wigginton of Compton. Later she became a patient at the sanatorium. A week ago, she had a severe attack of insanity. She had amnesia quite a while, and she had a severe attack of insanity. She had amnesia quite a while, and she had a severe attack of insanity.

Another teacher, aged 22 years, passed away at about the same time that the body was found. For nearly ten years she had spent the years of a wealthy nephew who desired to provide her with a good home, but she insisted to the last to remain in poverty in a two-room shack at No. 248 Elm avenue. She died probably as the result of improper nourishment after sustaining injuries in a runaway accident eighteen months ago. J. T. Herrick, a wealthy lumberman, who is her nephew, came to visit her here a few months ago, and attempted to induce her to give up the life of a recluse and accept his tender of a comfortable home, but she declined. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hand, No. 143 Locust avenue, have been looking after her for some time, but she would accept no aid from anyone else.

DR. WALKER'S TROUBLES.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker is having difficulty in accepting the call to the First Presbyterian Church of this city. The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Ga., has made no strenuous protest against Dr. Walker's coming here, but the eminent minister has been forced to postpone his first appearance here.

A telegram received today by C. F. Irrell, clerk of session of the Long Beach church, from Dr. Walker, states that he finds it impossible to occupy the local pulpit the first Sunday in April, but will probably be here April 12. A message received from Atlanta aside from this bears the information that the officers of the Atlanta church called a mass meeting of the congregation recently, at which Dr. Walker's resignation was not accepted, and a committee was named to try and induce him to forego the call.

OFFICERS ARE NOT IN ACCORD.

DISAGREE AS TO CAUSE OF DEATH OF UNKNOWN.

Santa Monica Police Believe that Man Found Dead Ended His Own Life, While Coroner Holds that Murder Was Committed—San Diego Man Is Arrested on Suspicion.

SANTA MONICA, March 23.—The badly decomposed body of a middle-aged man lies at the morgue of Brenne Bros. & Todd awaiting identification. It was first discovered in a little canyon several miles north of here by Colmano Noreme, who was rabbit hunting. He notified the police, who in turn communicated with Sheriff Hammel. For some unexplained reason Coroner Hartwell accompanied the deputy sheriffs. He pronounced that the man was murdered, owing to the fact that no pistol was found.

The body lay in a clump of bushes. The head rested on the ground, and the position prior to death. A bullet hole ranging upward from a point just above the nose was the cause of death.

A note written on a piece of paper cut so as to slip into the sole of one shoe was discovered. It reads, "I hope the birds will clean my bones." All marks of identification were removed from the clothing. There was no money or trinkets, as far as the officers could find.

A portion of a Los Angeles newspaper of the date January 25 was discovered. Indicating that the man walked up Los Pulgos Canyon about that date. The local police believe that the unidentified man committed suicide. The highest in the class, they declare, can be easily accounted for.

They say that the gun might have been picked up by some Mexican wandering about the canyon. Either the body was not perceived or else the finger of the pistol did not care to make a report of the gruesome find, the police theorize.

What may prove a means of identification is a mass of expensive gold work in the dead man's mouth. It is estimated that several hundred dollars worth of work had been done at various times. The clothing appears to be of fair quality, though stained and sodden from long exposure to rain and dampness. A peculiarity of the underwear is that straps extend under the instep. This sort is affected by equestrians.

There are no missing men from the Santa Monica Bay district answering the meagre description of the body. There is no possibility of recognizing the features or marks upon the body. Even the back of the skull is partly torn away where the bullet found egress. The hair is brown, tinged with gray. The man is thought to have been about 5 feet 8 inches in height and weighed about 160 pounds.

The Los Angeles deputies may follow up the case, but unless something more develops, the local officers are inclined to believe that suicide will be accepted rather than the theory of murder.

COUNT BOZENTA PASSES.

Polish Noblemen Who Was the Husband of Modjeska Dies in Poland—Fine Orange Cluster.

SANTA ANA, March 23.—Count Bozenta, who was the husband of Mme. Modjeska, died in Rosengarten, Province Posen, Ger., last Tuesday. This information was received here today in a telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. James S. Rice from Ralph Modjeska of Chicago, son of the famous tragedienne.

Mme. Modjeska and her husband lived in the county for a quarter of a century, their country home being at Arden in the Santiago Canyon. After their mountain ranch was sold they lived at Tustin, near their friends, the Rices, and then at Bay Island, East Newport, where Mme. Modjeska died. Count Bozenta was living in Poland with the remains of his wife, and never returned to America.

Count Bozenta has been living recently with his brother. Details concerning his death are not known here.

FINE CLUSTER.

There is now on exhibition at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce a cluster of twenty-five Valencia oranges, on complete display, which are the fruit of a cluster, which he says beats anything that was shown at the National Orange Show at Long Beach, where the biggest cluster had eighteen oranges. The fruit was brought to Los Angeles by a ranch at Tustin, where the Valencia orange grows to perfection.

WRIT REFUSED.

Today Judge West refused a writ of habeas corpus for a man who had been arrested by a paving contractor, who seeks to compel Street Superintendent English to sign a contract for paving a portion of the city.

Fourth street, English showed that he has signed a contract with the property owner, who has submitted the job to W. N. Grandall for 13 cents a square foot, 3 cents less than the price named in Verdin's bid under a contract for paving the same street.

Attorneys have now prepared for a writ of review by which they hope to show that the contract already signed is invalid.

WARRANT ISSUED.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of W. F. Ducey, a good roads payer, on a charge of running an automobile at night without lights.

J. E. Otto swore to the complaint, long ago upon some charge from Newport Beach, driving on the left side, and ran into another automobile.

CELEBRATE VICTORY.

Two Hundred Visalia Students Cut Strange Capers After Achieving First Honors in Track Meet.

VISALIA, March 23.—The 200 students of the Visalia High School serenaded through the business section of town for an hour this morning, celebrating their victory in the valley track meet at Bakersfield last Saturday.

The Merchants' Association and Board of Trade have agreed to pay the expenses of five athletes who will represent Visalia at the intercollegiate track meet to be held at Berkeley next month.

Percy Lucas, Ernest Sparks and Gerald Blankenship have been selected as three members of the team. All broke records of many years' standing at Bakersfield. Lucas is a sprinter and hurdler, Sparks a broad jumper and pole vaulter and Blankenship a distance runner.

An automobile stage that will make two round trips daily between Visalia and Dinuba made its initial run today. For the past two weeks an auto stage running between Visalia and Porterville has been doing a big business. The demand for the automobiles has been caused by poor train service.

Marriage of Oakland Man to Los Angeles Woman Is to Take Place April 21.

San Francisco Bureau of THE TIMES, March 23.—Invitations will be out this week for the marriage of Harvey Blanchard Lyon of Oakland and Miss Eleanor Richards of Los Angeles. The ceremony will take place in the southern city April 21, in the First Baptist Church, and will be one of the most important events of the spring season, with 500 guests present. The Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher will read the service.

The bride will have her sister, Miss May Richards, as maid of honor, and six bridesmaids. The groom's best man will be Bruce Maiden of Oakland and the following ushers: W. PROHIBITIONISTS BURY HATCHET.

NORTH AND SOUTH AGREE ON INITIATIVE PETITION.

Anti-Saloon League of California Decides to Work for Law to Make the State "Dry" February 15, 1915.

Instead of Five Days After Ball Election.

San Francisco, March 23.—Past differences which are said to have existed between representatives of the Anti-Saloon League of California and the California Dry Federation were buried today at a joint meeting of members of the two organizations, when it was decided to place before the voters next November an initiative petition which would prohibit the sale, manufacture or transportation of liquors after February 15, 1915. The petition will be supplementary to the measure that has been secured of a place on the ballot.

The newest petition came up today in the form of a compromise in that it allowed liquor manufacturers time to dispose of their interests, whereas the original petition was designed to become effective within five days after election at the polls.

The Southern California members of the "dry" forces had previously declared themselves as unalterably opposed to any change in the reading of their petition, which would put California in the list of prohibition States. The Northern and Central California factions agreed that the present time was not advantageous for a State-wide vote on prohibition. Matters were now united and would work hand-in-hand for the passage of the amendment. H. W. Peck and Guy W. Wadsworth of Los Angeles represented the Northern and Central California Federation. A. S. Johnson of this city presided.

Mother of Pretty Bakersfield Girl Gives Her Consent and Their Union at Stockton Allowed.

Stockton, March 23.—All barriers to the marriage of Ralph C. Baker and Miss Stella Marie Lamb, a pretty Bakersfield girl, were removed today, when Dist. Atty. Polts received a letter from Mrs. Lamb giving her consent to the union.

When Miss Lamb and Baker appeared last week before the County Clerk a marriage license was refused, owing to the fact that the girl was under age. Dist. Atty. Polts was later seen and the marriage postponed until such a time when a written permit under the seal of a notary public could be received.

It is now presumed that the marriage will be solemnized at once.

SOCIETY THIEF TRIES SUICIDE.

MRS. CORNS JUMPS OFF FERRY INTO THE BAY.

Oakland Woman's Plunge Is Noticed and She Is Rescued—Publicity Given to Four Jewel Robberies Committed by Her Supposed Cause of Attempt.

San Francisco, March 23.—Mrs. Marion Lucas Corns, confessed society thief, is recovering in an Oakland sanatorium, following her attempt to commit suicide late last night when she leaped from the upper deck of the ferry boat Bay City while on her way to Oakland, where she lives.

Feeling the disgrace that has resulted from the publicity given her case by Oakland detectives, Mrs. Corns has been morbid, and yesterday when she visited Mrs. Stella H. Miller of this city, who was one of her victims, she threatened to end her life.

The boat was between Yerba Buena Island and the Alameda Mole when Mrs. Corns' tragedy occurred. Mrs. Mary Jewett of Oakland saw her jump and raised an outcry. In a few minutes the would-be suicide was rescued. For quite awhile the identity of Mrs. Corns was not known. She became hysterical and mentioned the name of Mrs. Peter Hanrahan of Oakland, one of the women who had been robbed, and thus became known.

There will be no publicity given as a result of revelations made by Mrs. Corns. She told how detectives agreed to keep the robberies quiet, providing she returned the stolen jewelry. Mrs. Corns robbed four women, and their names are being kept secret because of her good standing in society.

Mrs. Corns comes of a splendid family, her father having been prominent in steamship and transportation circles, and a veteran of the Civil War. Her mother, Mrs. G. L. Harris of Alameda, was 82 years old yesterday, and Mrs. Corns visited her early in the day.

Mrs. Corns told Dr. O. D. Hamilton today she does not remember leaping from the ferry boat, and must have been out of her mind. She begged that her act be kept from her mother and two children.

WRECKED ON BIRD ISLAND.

Captain and Crew of the W. H. Dimon Reach Shore Safely and Are Taken to Seward.

Seattle, March 23.—A dispatch from Seward, Alaska, announces the arrival of Capt. C. W. Prellberg and his crew of twenty-five men from the three-masted schooner W. H. Dimon of San Francisco, wrecked on Bird Island, forty miles south of Unga Island, February 18. The crew will be brought to Seattle by a mail steamer.

The Dimon, bound from San Francisco for Unga with stores for a cod-fishing company, piled up on the rocks during a dense fog. All hands took to the small boats and reached shore. Volunteers were called for and a dory was navigated to Unga through the sixty miles of open water, for aid.

A power boat was sent from the fishing village for their relief and brought back the men to Unga, where they awaited the arrival of the Dora from Seward. Ship and cargo are a total loss.

MOTORCYCLIST RELEASED.

Stockton Man Who Killed a Child Declares He Saw No Reason to Wait Afterwards.

Stockton, March 23.—Jack Emmet, an employee of a local store, who was arrested yesterday on the charge of having run down and killed Gutierrez Maximilian, aged 5, made a full confession today and immediately thereafter was released from custody on motion of Dist. Atty. Polts.

Emmet admitted that he ran over the child with his motorcycle and did not stop to render aid. He declared that he was driving on the highway and that when he regained his feet, he saw an automobile taking the child away and saw no reason why he should wait. In asking that the charge of manslaughter be dismissed, the District Attorney stated that he had investigated the case and was convinced that Emmet was not criminally liable.

When first arrested Emmet was said to have denied that he knew anything about the affair.

SON'S SKULL FRACTURED.

Mother Recovers Twelve Thousand Dollars From the Southern Pacific Railway Company, in Washington.

Seattle (Wash.) March 23.—A jury in the United States District Court returned today a verdict for $12,000 for Mrs. Elizabeth Gobel, mother of Harry C. Gobel of Tacoma, against the Southern Pacific Railroad. She sued for $50,000.

Daniel Fleming, a railroad policeman, was accused of throwing her son and his companion from a train near Redding, Cal., August 25, 1910. Young Gobel, then aged six, was a companion, George Vallier, of Tacoma, were beating their way on a passenger train.

Vallier was killed and Gobel's skull fractured. Gobel was in a hospital thirty weeks, and is alleged to have been permanently incapacitated. Fleming was convicted of manslaughter because of the death of Vallier. He was granted a new trial by the California Supreme Court, and later, on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney, all charges against him were dismissed.

Office of the New State Industrial Accident Commission Will Offer Suggestions to Prevent Disasters.

San Francisco, March 23.—To investigate conditions in the mines of San Bernardino, Kern, San Diego and Inyo counties, to confer with the managers regarding ventilation, first aid to the injured, and safety appliances to protect the miners, and to give such helpful suggestions as may be required, H. GENUINE SACRIFICE

FINE PIANOS AND PLAYER PIANOS

A combination of circumstances beyond our control makes it necessary to close out our institution here. We must do so quickly.

As stated heretofore, I could ship these pianos to one of our northern houses, but it would only mean added expense and freight charges and risk of damage. And as the instruments would still have to be sold, we determined simply to pocket our loss by selling them for what they cost us, and even less, right where they stand.

There's hardly a make that can be mentioned which I'm not supplying for at least half less than regular price.

In fact, you name your own price and tell me how it best suits you to pay for any instrument in this stock; if it's half-way within reason I'll accept the offer.

Excellent and reliable Yoes, Pease, Emerson, Steinway, Kransch & Bach, Hardman and others in every way like the new for only $125 and the fancy cases are $50 additional.

Other less well-known pianos, new ones, and warranted are only $115, and some for $95. Old style pianos $25 each. For $55 we give choice of numerous used Hardman, Kransch & Bach, Ivers & Pund and other upright styles.

On other floors will be found elegant Kimballs, Colonial designs, half price; superb mahogany Steinways, so-called verigrains, only $255. Elegant hand-made Haisletons, $235. Largest size Weber and Kransch & Bach and Hallet & Davis and A. B. Chase and Kimball, which usually sell for $500 and $550, are here at $245, $265 and $285.

and $285. Also an ebony used Steinway, Haisleton and Kimball uprights, $165 and $175. I offer for only $225 some of the best made player pianos, the kind for which ordinarily $700 has to be paid. For the player styles I will take $265. The $500 and $1000 fanciest player pianos are reduced the same as the less expensive instruments.

I fear in mind that these are clean and perfect pianos, accompanied by our money-back guarantee. But remember when these instruments are gone there will be no more at these outstandingly low prices. No one can afford to let this offer to pass. Eager to sell with any instruments which may or may not have suffered even ever so slightly in a fire, Water is a piano's worst enemy, smoke damages varnish, though frequently such damage will not become apparent until long after the piano has been used.

Steam affects glue joints in sound boards, pin blocks, etc. Heat warps any highly seasoned wood and also interferes with the temper of steel string and plate, etc. For these sound reasons we again ask: Why fuse with any instrument which may or may not have suffered even ever so slightly in a fire when we are closing out better pianos, the nation's very finest makes, at what they cost the Nation's Largest Music House? Remember the number, 344 S. Broadway, and remember also that it is not necessary to pay all cash. Tell us how it is most convenient for you to pay us and if it is within reason we will accept your offer.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Finance Committee decided yesterday that it will take no steps toward providing funds for the completion of State building petitions until after the conference with representatives of San Francisco and Oakland on the subject of a constitutional amendment on city-county consolidation. If this plan can be worked out it is deemed advantageous to circulate both petitions at one time.

The City Council will begin its final round today on the gas rate hearings, and expects to close the case tonight. A new application for the one saloon permit available was filed yesterday by Boggis and Bowers for No. 615 East Fifth street. It is probable that the permit will be awarded today by the Police Commission, and it may go to Fred Meriwether, who did a brilliant campaign work for Mayor Rose.

The Finance Committee yesterday decided to telegraph East to ascertain for a certainty whether the equipment for the proposed garbage reduction plant has been ordered and is in process of construction.

A peremptory writ of mandate was issued by Judge Shank yesterday compelling the trustees of the Sawtelle school district to buy a site authorized by the voters and to erect a school building to relieve the crowded educational situation in that city. This ends a litigation carried on since last October.

Another jurist than Judge Myers may decide the acceptability of the two and a half million-dollar bond of the Espee in the California Development Company case.

MUST AWAIT CONFERENCE.

COMMITTEE ON STATE BUILDING RENEWS FUNDS REQUEST.

It is proposed to ask the voters to indorse an appropriation of $1,250,000 for a State building in Los Angeles, at the same time they are asked to agree to an appropriation of $1,000,000 for a similar building in San Francisco, and $2,000,000 for Sacramento.

The committee later was assured of getting $1000 from the county for its petition circulation work if the city will appropriate $2000.

When the special committee appeared before the Board of Supervisors Chairman Priddy, appointed Supervisors Norton, Woodley and Manning to confer with the City Council at an early date on ways and means of securing the money needed to place the initiative petition on the ballot of the next general election.

Priddy himself suggested the appointment of the committee after the equality of the county appropriation of $2000 of the $5000 needed was discussed at some length. County Council Hill stated that the money needed to be appropriated if the building is to be of office building exclusively, but that it might be if the building is to be used for exposition purposes.

funds, preferring that this be done through the regular channels of the city office.

FINAL ROUND.

IN GAS RATE HEARING.

The City Council has tentatively agreed that the public hearing on gas rates shall close tonight. So far the witnesses for the Southern California Gas Company and the Economic Gas Company have not been put on the stand. Attorneys for these concerns urged at the last hearing that they be given a fixed time within which to present their cases. It is probable that they will be heard this afternoon and that a night session will be held for the summing up of arguments by the attorneys for the various protestants.

NEW APPLICATION.

FOR THAT SALOON PERMIT.

The Police Commission will meet today and the subject of chief interest will be that of the application for the one saloon permit which the board can issue. Last week the board denied all but two applications—those of Fred Meriwether and Frank Hober. Yesterday a new application was filed. This is made by Boggis & Bowers of No. 615 East Fifth street, the Bowers Hotel building. Just what effect this will have on the general program is a subject of interest to the many persons who have been interested in the contest for the permit. Usually a week's time is given in which applications, in order for the Chief of Police to make an investigation and report. It has been common understanding, however, that Fred Meriwether is the favorite candidate for the saloon permit, and that, as he did a brilliant campaign service for Mayor Rose, he is the one likely to land the prize. It is among the probabilities that the board will take final action today and grant the Meriwether application for No. 1462 San Fernando street. The Hober application is for No. 256 East Second street.

GARBAGE PLANT.

WHAT IS ITS STATUS?

Inspector of Public Works Hansen presented to the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday the estimate of the expense necessary to be incurred in making proper roadways and approaches to the site for the proposed garbage plant. It will be necessary to improve Leonard street and make subways under the Santa Fe Railroad tracks. The total cost is placed at $15,875, of which amount $1500 would be the proportion that the Santa Fe Railroad would have to bear for its portion of the subways.

It is necessary to have these roadways in order to haul building material to the site. Councilman Conwell balked. He wanted to know the actual status of the garbage plant situation. It was stated that the report had been made that orders for the machinery have been placed. Councilman Conwell wanted assurance and proposed that telegrams be sent East to definitely ascertain this before any appropriation is made by the city for roadway. No action on improvements will be taken until the city has definite assurance that the reduction plant equipment has actually been ordered and is under way of manufacture.

ANOTHER ONE?

MCKENZIE MAY RESIGN.

The report was current at the City Hall yesterday that Councilman McKenzie may soon file his resignation. He has been seriously ill for several weeks, and it is probable that he would not be able to resume his Councilmanic duties for a long time to come, although he is reported as making some improvement in condition. Incident to the rumor that McKenzie may resign there have been discussions as to his probable successor, should he decide to do this step, and those chiefly mentioned are Capt. H. Z. Osborne and H. F. Vollmer, the two men who stood highest on the list of candidates next to those elected to the Council.

Use Municipal Bureau.

City Clerk Wilde yesterday mailed to heads of all city departments and to lists of contractors that bid for city work the formal notice or resolution recently adopted by the City Council, demanding that labor be secured through the free municipal employment bureau. Instead of through private agencies. The appeal to the contractors is simply a request, as the city has no legal authority to force contractors to employ municipal bureau for their supplies of laborers, but it is believed that this request will have weight with such contractors.

Two Elections in One Day?

The Finance Committee discussed submitting to the people the subject of a consolidation of the offices of City and County Tax Collectors. It was decided to write to Dillon, Thomson and Clay, New York bond experts, to inquire whether there would be legal objection to having this question submitted to the voters at a separate election on the same date as that to be set for the proposed power plant. An election should be held it would require separate ballot boxes, etc., as there is a legal requirement that only bond propositions can be presented at a special election called for that purpose. Using the same day for the election on consolidation of the offices would require a separate election call, etc., and separate election boards would have to be provided.

Notes of the Municipality.

The City Council received official notice yesterday from the Municipal League that the city planning exhibit of New York City, which is to be brought to Los Angeles, will be placed on exhibition in Exposition Building, Exposition Park, on April 16. The city pays $400 towards the expense of bringing this exhibit.

The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company yesterday filed a petition asking the City Council to place the northwest corner of Sixth and Olive streets within the restricted district for parking autos.

The National Association of Stationary Engineers, Los Angeles No. 2, yesterday filed a petition to the Council that it appoint an elevator inspector, and asking for a hearing on this subject before the proper committee.

Herbert Burdett was before the City Council yesterday urging that the lot-cleaning bureau be taken over entirely by the city, and declaring that unless this is done it will have to be handled strictly as a private institution, as the committee in charge does not feel justified in further solicitation of funds for its upkeep. No action was taken other than a Council suggestion that this is a proper adjunct for the movement to beautify the city for the 1915 visitors.

MANDATORY SITE AT SAWTELLE.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MUST BUILD HOUSE OF LEARNING.

Court Orders Officials to Heed Will of the People and Relieve Congested Educational Situation. Owing to Illness of Judge Myers Another Jurist May Act for Him.

The trustees of the Sawtelle school district must buy a school site and put up a building to relieve the congested educational situation prevailing among the school children, under a peremptory writ of mandate issued by Judge Shank yesterday. This ends the litigation which followed the refusal of the trustees to obey the wishes of the people who, at a meeting authorized by the purchase of a site in the Barrett Villa tract.

Yesterday's court action resulted after several days of delay in court on the part of citizens desiring to force the trustees, and others seeking to prevent the purchase of the site. In the first instance the court sustained a demurrer to the complaint of a citizen who sought to compel the trustees to spend the money on school site.

In the second instance suit was filed by Lee W. Park against C. L. Edinger and A. J. Bower, trustees, asking for a writ of mandate. It was shown by Park that there were no adequate school facilities and that the absence of a suitable building the education of the children of Sawtelle suffered.

The site was offered the trustees for $2500, but the matter of purchasing it hung fire since October 1, 1913. Under the order of the court the trustees must get busy.

REQUIRE SUBSTITUTE.

JUDGE MUST APPROVE BOND.

Attorney Walker for the Southern Pacific yesterday asked the court to require a substitute for Judge Myers in filing the $2,250,000 bond required of the corporation in staying the foreclosure of the Santa Fe Railroad and California Development Company, and safeguarding the interests of the creditors.

W. B. Mathews, counsel for Col. W. H. Holabird, the receiver for the Santa Fe Railroad, also asked the court to require a substitute for Judge Myers in filing the $2,250,000 bond required of the corporation in staying the foreclosure of the Santa Fe Railroad and California Development Company, and safeguarding the interests of the creditors.

ALIENATION SUIT.

CHANGE OF VENUE SOUGHT.

A fight to have the trial of the $15,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Helen Blanche Fisher, shifted to Santa Barbara, opened in Judge Jackson's court yesterday and was continued a week. Mrs. Fisher resides in Santa Barbara and desires to have the suit tried there. This is opposed by Mrs. Parsons, who is the daughter of Mrs. E. A. Hulse of this city.

Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Parsons with having won the affections of her husband, Carlton H. Parsons. The suit alleges that Mrs. Parsons has seduced her husband and that she has made him expensive gifts.

PERJURY SUGGESTED.

DEMAND FOR A MILLION.

On the statement of Attorney O'Melveny, representing the estate of Pierre Agoure, that the charges made by John Lapique against various defendants in his $1,000,000 suit are false and libelous, Judge Morrison yesterday sustained the defendant's demurrer that if Lapique failed to prove the charges and showed that he was a perjurer, he would be guilty of perjury. Furthermore, in this event he said he would refer the matter to the District Attorney for action.

Lapique, who is plaintiff in the action, was represented by counsel and alleged that he was Agoure's partner.

The charges referred to by O'Melveny consisted of the alleged procurement of the death of Agoure's wife, Catherine, and others, November 29, 1912, while he was in his care. He alleged that the Agoure family was in his room from November 24 to November 29, and that Agoure was poisoned.

FILE THIRD SUIT.

SWINDLE ALLEGED.

The third suit against Councilman W. J. Bryant, his brother, E. I. Bryant, the Judson Investment Company, L. H. Judson and Maud A. Judson filed yesterday, alleged that the defendants conspired to swindle William Riddell. The latter wants the defendants to return $135 he invested on a contract with interest from October 19, 1910, and $60 with interest from March 24, 1911.

Johnstone Jones is indicted among the defendants, Riddell asserting that Jones alleged the value of the lot covered by the contract purchase was $1750. E. I. Bryant referred him to Jones, and W. J. Bryant assured him the contract purchase was a valid one. Riddell alleges that the title to the property is in the name of Maud A. Judson and that its price was grossly in excess of its true value.

MUST HIDE TIME.

NON-SUPPORT INDICTED.

Mrs. Leonard M. Rodgers was not able to prove the allegation of non-support in the divorce suit against Matthew E. Rodgers, a civil engineer, and Judge Monroe advised her to wait until the legal time and bring suit for desertion. He also stated that a woman has an experience with one husband and gets a divorce, it should open her eyes so that she would not select a man who would prove better time.

In Mrs. Rodgers's case she testified that a great deal of her time was devoted to a husband who was on the straight and narrow path, from which he wandered in pursuit of Bacchus. No action was taken other than a Council suggestion that this is a proper adjunct for the movement to beautify the city for the 1915 visitors.

In moving to dismiss the Mises Strong asked that it be without prejudice. The motion was granted by Judge Houser. It is understood that the Mises now file an action for an accounting. Strong having filed his final account as administrator. Growing out of the death of their father the estates cordial between brother and sisters has been strained.

QUARREL OVER WATER.

DEMURRER OVERRULED.

The demurrer of the Craggs Land Company and Craggs Country Club to the complaint of May K. Rindge and the Rindge Company, which seeks to enjoin the defendants from using the waters of Malibu Creek for the lake built by the country club, was overruled by Judge Finlayson yesterday. Since the suit was heard he has filed his answer.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE.

SCARED INTO MARRIAGE.

Under fear of being sent to an insane asylum, Hazel B. Miller alleged in a complaint for the annulment of her marriage to Henry J. Miller that she consented to the ceremony and became his wife January 9, 1912. Since that time she asserts she has failed to provide for her, and she now asks the court to free her from the bond.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

FILES OPPOSITION. Opposition to the inheritance tax on the estate of Col. Robert J. Northam has been filed by Attorney Dockweiler, representing Maude E. Northam, Rindge, adopted daughter of Col. Northam. This objection is based on the ground that Mrs. Rindge was not included among the heirs of the deceased. Mrs. Rindge had previously filed her petition for a partial distribution of the estate. The widow is Mrs. Leola K. Northam.

DAMAGE SUIT.

Estate of the late Victor Ponet is made a defendant.

With J. P. Hooper in a suit filed by Mrs. W. Smith yesterday for damages for injuries sustained when she alleged she fell down the elevator shaft from the top of the elevator on December 11, 1913. She alleges that the hall was dark, and that she stepped into the shaft, alighting on the top of the elevator. Actual damages are placed at $1010 and $10,000 punitive damages.

SWAP COURTROOMS.

Judge Jackson and Judge Hewitt will swap courtrooms this week.

The former will preside in Department Sixteen on the second floor of the Courthouse and the latter in Department Nine on the third floor. Sixteen has chambers attached and Nine has not, which is largely the reason for the swap.

DOCTOR WINS FEES.

Dr. William MacCoy won $1000 for 1000 surgical fees against H. R. Gage through a jury in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday.

Gage lost on his cross-complaint to recover $1000 for alleged malpractice. The surgical services extended from May 21 to September 27, 1910.

Prosecution Asks More Time For Trial and Date Is to Be Set Later in May.

On motion of Deputy District Attorney Shannon, the case of J. W. Brynes, alias "Nigger" Brynes, was yesterday continued in Judge Willis's court to be set May 19. Brynes is charged with grand larceny in a complaint by G. P. Priesen, an Illinois farmer, who charges he was lured out of a check for $5000 by Brynes in a fake horse race. Lee Rial, an alleged confederate of Brynes, was recently convicted and sentenced to ten years imprisonment. His appeal is now pending before the Supreme Court and until certain questions in the case are decided the District Attorney does not want to try the case against Brynes.
